Speculate U Thant May Quit

Will Announce Decision Sept. 1

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — U Thant returns tonight from a week's trip to Latin America to announce whether he will remain as U.N. secretary-general. His decision will be sent to all 17 U.N. delegations Thursday.

The impression among many U.N. diplomats is that despite unprecedented international pressure, the Burmese diplomat will say that he is not available for another five-year term after his current term expires Nov. 3.

May Leave Opening

Others speculate that he will leave the door open to serve for at least two or three more years. Most agree that an unqualified no would set off another round of diplomatic effort to persuade him to change his mind.

Pressure to keep him in one of the world's most demanding jobs has come from virtually all of the 117 U.N. members, including the major powers and such influential groups as the 61 Asian and African nations. It has come also from world leaders — President Johnson, British Prime Minister Harold Wilson, French President Charles de Gaulle and Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin.

Even 176 members of the U.S. Congress joined in a telegraphed appeal, and some U.S. newspapers have published editorials urging him to remain.

Mindful of Critics

Thant, 57, is mindful of criticism that he will be taking a kind of "stop the world, I want to get off" attitude if he leaves the United Nations at a time of deepening crisis for both the organization and world affairs.

Call Guard to Curb Michigan Violence

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Michigan Lt. Gov. William Milliken has been asked to send National Guardsmen into Benton Harbor after the wounding of a Negro youth that climaxed two straight nights of racial violence.

Benton Harbor Mayor Wilbert Smith made the request today as he declared a state of emergency.

One Wounded

Police said shots fired by two white youths in an auto wounded a Negro Tuesday night after a line of police had driven a rock-throwing march back to its starting point.

Police said the victim, Cecil Hunt, 18, of Benton Harbor, was hospitalized in serious condition.

The shooting came after an unruly crowd of about 300 Negroes marched into a downtown area, throwing rocks and bottles at police and newsmen. The shots were fired after the crowd had been forced back into a Negro section and was beginning to break up into smaller groups.

During the march 14 persons were arrested for disorderly loitering. One Negro, who led the march for a short time, said the demonstration was to focus attention on what he called a lack of recreational facilities.

Curfew Imposed

At Waukegan, Ill., where a 7.30 p.m. curfew was again imposed, eviction proceedings were initiated against a public housing tenant who was arrested during recent rioting.

Mayor Robert Sabonjian, saying people should not be allowed to use public housing as an arsenal, ordered David Kinder, 24, evicted.

Sabonjian talked to 32 Negro leaders during the day, and a rally of 150 NAACP members heard the Rev. H. J. Cook say, "I believe we have made a step towards a workable means by which we can solve the problems." He said the problems include segregation in housing

Probe Viet News Use As Weapon

WASHINGTON (AP) — Arthur Sylvester, Defense Department information chief, goes before a Senate committee today for questioning on whether he attempts to use news as a weapon in the Viet Nam War.

The Senate Foreign Relations Committee hearing promised to fan the coals of the government news management dispute.

Is Key Figure

Sylvester has been a key figure in the dispute. He was a major factor in launching the controversy when he acknowledged after the 1962 Cuban missile crisis that the Kennedy administration controlled news of government actions as a weapon to force the dismantling of Russian missile bases.

Sylvester told a reporter then, "In the kind of world we live in, the generation of news by actions taken by the government becomes one weapon in a strained situation. The results, in my opinion, justifed the methods we used."

Sylvester's words were recalled when the committee looked two weeks ago into the propaganda front of the Viet Nam War.

Points to Department

At that hearing Leonard H. Marks, chief of the U.S. Information Agency, told the committee his agency dealt only with the nonmilitary aspects of the conflict, that military information was handled by the Defense Department—in other words, under Sylvester's bailiwick.

Committee Chairman J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., recalled Sylvester's views about news as weapons and decided to question him about the Pentagon's news policies on the Viet Nam War.

House Plans to Act On Interest Rates

WASHINGTON (AP) — The issue of mounting interest rates and their effect on the nation's economy is churning toward House action on a wave of political controversy. A vote may come early next week.

The House Rules Committee cleared the way Tuesday for House votes on two proposals designed to limit certain interest rates.

Public Demands

The sponsor of one of the bills, Rep. Wright Patman, D-Tex., said the public is demanding "to know who in Congress is against high interest rates." He said the question "is sure to become a burning issue" in the November elections.

House Speaker John W. McCormack said the interest legislation will be scheduled for early House action, probably next week.

In other developments:

—Sen. Russell B. Long, D-La., introduced a bill to suspend indefinitely the 7 per cent investment tax credit given businesses on outlays for plans and equipment. He said he hoped the measure would lead to a reduction in interest rates.

— The Federal Home Loan Bank Board reported interest rates on conventional home mortgages reached another record during July. The average rate on new homes was 6.12 per cent, up from 6.07 per cent in June, while the average on existing homes rose to 6.24 per cent, compared with 6.18 per cent in June.

Sees Tax Hike

At the Rules Committee hearing Tuesday, Undersecretary of the Treasury Joseph W. Barr indicated the possibility of a tax increase to fight inflation.

"We can't rely on monetary policy much longer," he said. "We have followed a policy tending toward restraint. It may not be enough."

Barr appeared before the committee to support a Treasury-backed bill that would give the Federal Reserve Board flexible powers to fix maximum interest rates on deposits.

The other measure introduced by Patman, House Banking Committee chairman, would fix a 4.5 per cent interest ceiling on deposits of up to $100,000 left in a bank for a fixed time.

Patman argued giving the

Will Draft Bill To Curb Outlays Under 'Medicaid'

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Ways and Means Committee has begun work on legislation to set limits on federally aided state programs for medical care of the poor and "medically indigent."

Informants disclosed the committee is writing preliminary drafts of a bill to curb outlays under the so-called "Medicaid" provisions of last year's medicare law.

Costs Are High

The costs are far beyond Congress' expectations. A spokesman of the U.S. Welfare Department said the first-year federal share of the new plans approved by the department for 14 states and Puerto Rico are estimated at much more than twice the federal outlays for the same states last year.

These programs are separate from the Medicare hospital and health insurance program for those 65 and older. This program, administered under Social Security, is not affected by the legislation now being considered.

What would be affected is the broadened provisions for federal aid to state health services for persons who, regardless of age, are regarded as destitute, dependent or "medically indigent."

New York Plans

Congress last year permitted the states to broaden the medically indigent category and some — notably New York — responded with plans that would bring in a large part of their populations and run up the federal government's 50 per cent

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — U.S. Navy planes pounced on two more North Vietnamese torpedo boats in the Gulf of Tonkin today, knocking out one and damaging the other, the U.S. command announced.

The attack ran up the score for the carrier-launched bombers to three PT boats destroyed and three damaged since Monday.

Knock Out Site

Other U.S. pilots reported knocking out a surface-to-air missile site 40 miles north of Vinh and hitting another SAM site only five miles west of Haiphong.

In South Viet Nam, a week-long lull in the war persisted. No significant action was reported by either the U.S. military command or South Vietnamese headquarters.

However, government officials expected increased Viet Cong efforts to disrupt the Sept. 11 election of a constituent assembly. Informed sources said more than 100 incidents had been reported throughout the nation.

Policeman Shot

Policemen shot and killed a suspected Communist agent who tried to flee when he was caught tearing down election posters in Saigon Tuesday night.

The relentless air offensive against the North cost the Americans another plane today. A U.S. spokesman reported a Navy reconnaissance IF8 Crusader went down eight miles southeast of Haiphong. The pilot

Nuns Cross Safe From Red China

Eight Banished By Young Guard

HONG KONG (AP) — Eight weary Roman Catholic nuns —victims of the purge in Red China — arrived in Hong Kong today.

Sister Eamon, 85, the former Mary O'Sullivan of Ireland, fainted as she prepared to leave Chinese soil and had to be carried across the border to Hong Kong in a baggage cart.

Suffers Fatigue

She and Mother Mary of the Cross, 76, the former Winifred Duff of Canada, were hospitalized suffering from general fatigue. A spokesman said they would stay in the hospital several days

The other six were taken to a convent.

"All of them are healthy," a nun at the convent said, "but they're all very tired and they would like to rest."

One of the nuns was on crutches because of injuries in an accident several years ago.

The nuns were attached to the Sacred Heart Academy in Peking, a girls' school run by the Franciscan Missionary of Mary. Last Thursday members of the militant young Red Guard, on a rampage against foreign influences, invaded the school, hoisted the Red flag over it and plastered the walls with demands that "foreign devils" get out of China.

Closed School

The nuns said the teen-agers forced them to stand for about 30 minutes against a wall with their heads bowed. The Communist government closed the school and expelled the nuns.

The women ranged in age from 40 to 85. They are natives of Canada, France, Greece, Italy, Ireland, Poland, Scotland and Switzerland.

Catholic sources said their expulsion left Bishop James E. Walsh, 74, of Cumberland, Md., the only non-Chinese Catholic official in China. Now in a Shanghai prison hospital, he has served seven years of a 20-year sentence on charges of espionage.

The Sacred Heart Academy had been permitted to operate as a school for children of foreign diplomats stationed in Peking. Diplomats from many nations protested the attack on the school and its closure.

Area Needs Noted By Congressman Along River Tour

Congressman Joseph Y. Resnick (D-Ellenville) today reported on the first leg of a study tour of the Hudson River taken last Saturday.

He also disclosed plans for the second half of the boat trip down the Hudson this coming Saturday. The Congressman is making the tour as part of his personal effort to stimulate development of the recreational facilities of the Hudson.

Last Saturday, Congressman Resnick went north from Catskill to Hudson, Athens, Coxsackie, and then back to Saugerties. The Congressman's Floatilla stopped at each of the piers along the way to greet his friends and to discuss the Hudson River situation with boat owners.

Cites Need

Resnick stated, "development of recreation is a long-time interest of mind, and the development of the Hudson for these purposes is of particular importance. Boating is no longer the rich man's sport it was years ago. Fortunately, there are great numbers of people in our area who enjoy boating and related sports today. Development and reclamation of the Hudson River will not only benefit those who enjoy boating camping and swimming, but is a potential source of considerable income to the area."

As a result of his visit, the Congressman concluded that a bulkhead is needed in Hudson, and that Coxsackie and Saugerties need dredging of their channels. Resnick also called for public boat launching ramps along the East bank of the Hudson where there are presently none. Of essential importance, he noted, are the undevelopd islands in the Hudson that "could serve as wonderful camping and recreation sites."

"After personally seeing the problems at first hand, I am

List Bid Opening For Building at Highland Facility

Construction of five cottages at the Highland State Training School for Boys in Ulster County, for which bids will be opened September 28, will complete the modernization program for the school's living facilities, Governor Rockefeller announced today.

The new buildings will accommodate 100 boys now living in the original main lodge and 25 now in an old log cottage.

Expected to be ready for occupancy in the spring of 1968, the new buildings will be of steel frame construction with brick or split concrete modular masonry. The cost is estimated at $1 million.

"Seven new cottages have been built at Highland in the past four years," Governor Rockefeller said. "Each of these buildings is designed to house 25 boys plus the cottage parents. With the completion of the five cottages for which bids will be taken September 28, the school will be able to accommodate its full complement of 300 boys in modern facilities."

"Highland serves boys under 13 years of age who have been adjudicated as juvenile delinquents or as persons in need of supervision, and placed or committed by Family Court," Governor Rockefeller pointed out. "The boys come from New York City and counties in the eastern section of the state. Continuing community services and supervision are provided for about 800 boys who have completed their stay at the school and have been returned to their homes."

The school has been in operation since 1957. The original physical plant had previously been used as a boarding school and summer camp.

Highland has a staff of 178, almost all of whom live in the immediate area. The annual payroll is $1,124,000.

Paltz Approves Addition to Bond For High School

New Paltz Central School District voters on Tuesday gave the Board of Education the go ahead when they approved a $524,400 issue as an additional appropriation to a $1.8 million issue approved previously for a new expandable high school.

The vote was 571to 378.

The new school, to be built on a site off South Putt Road, New Paltz, will comprise 25 classrooms, two special education classrooms, four science rooms, a new library, industrial arts shop, an auditorium with a seating capacity of 700 and a gymnasium with a seating capacity of 1,250.

The building also will have a

270 Are Registered at Coleman School; TV to Be Used on Elementary Level

By JEAN F. DOLAN
Freeman Staff Writer

Instructional Television and start of the new co-educational high school will mark the opening of Catholic parochial educational facilities in Ulster County Sept. 7.

Installation of closed circuit TV facilities has been completed in most elementary schools in the county and will go into operation as soon as possible. Some areas are experiencing reception difficulties which must be ironed out before that teaching program may be used.

The TV courses are being made available to the 437 schools in the Archdiocese of New York through a modern communications center recently completed on the campus of St. Joseph's Seminary, Dunwoodie, Westchester County. Relay transmitters are located at Manhattan, Staten Island, Peekskill, Beacon, Rhinecliff and Loomis. The 25 mc TV service makes it possible to telecast three different programs or courses at the same time.

The in-school courses planned for elementary grades during the coming school year include science, Spanish, music, health, art geography, religion, mathematics and language arts. In-service courses for teachers will be offered in religion, mathematics, geography, psychology, music and television utilization.

Enrollment at the John A. Coleman High School at the site of the former Academy of St. Ursula in Kingston is estimated at 270 boys and girls. A new building is to be constructed on Hurley Avenue with completion date set September, 1967. For the present academic year facilities at the former all-girls school will be used.

Projected enrollment for the fall of next year are 640 boys and girls. The new building will include 30 classrooms and laboratories of various sizes. Special provision will be made for large and small group instruction. A chapel, library facilities, gymnasium, language laboratory and outdoor athletic field will be provided also. Sisters of St. Ursula, Marist Brothers, Brothers of the Christian Schools and lay teachers will comprise the faculty.

Enrollment Figures Up

Enrollment at the Coleman school this year shows an increase of 61 students. Elementary schools in the county show a student increase of 125 with total estimated enrollment of 3,269.

It is estimated by the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Raymond P. Rigney, superintendent of schools for the Archdiocese, that 224,330 students will be enrolled this September in the Catholic schools of the Archdiocese. The 338 elementary schools will have a registration of 174,192 pupils while a population of 50,138 students is anticipated in 99 high schools. This is a projected in-

Wilson Suggests Proxy Ballot Use For Servicemen

It was announced today by Ulster County Assemblyman Kenneth L. Wilson that, beginning September 1, the New York State Division for Servicemen's Voting will begin accepting "proxy" applications for military ballots for members of the Armes Forces who are currently serving outside of the continental limits of the United States.

According to Assemblyman Wilson the "proxy" application forms can be filled out and signed by the spouse, parent, or adult child of any serviceman now stationed overseas, and thereby relieve the person in service of the added budren of making out his, or her, own application for a ballot.

Wilson, who introduced the legislation this year to make the new procedure possible, said that the recently enacted law would not only simplify the entire process of servicemen's voting, but it should also encourage a greater degree of partici-

Requests People Send Cards To Boost Jackie's Morale

BY FRED SNYDER
Freeman Staff Writer

Jackie Santowski, the Tillson woman whose dramatic battle with death several weeks ago moved Ulster County residents to contribute over $10,000 to buy a machine that might save her life, needs more than money if she's going to pull through another Christmas Eve.

John DeVoll, the woman's father, wrote The Freeman Sunday that his daughter's spirit is down and that she has lost the will to live.

Successful operation of the Travenol dialysis, the kidney machine which treats uremic poisoning diseases—Jackie's ailment—requires that the patient be in a "proper, healthy and positive frame of mind."

Jackie, now a patient in Prospect Heights Hospital, Brooklyn undergoing preparatory treatments on the machine has been "psychologically withdrawn" ever since she learned two months ago that her chances for living were slim.

DeVoll feels certain that her outlook would improve immeasurably, however, if area residents took some time out to send her a letter, a note, even a postcard of encouragement.

"A few cards or something will give her that needed boost. She has been through so much pain and suffering these last few weeks, please send her a letter or card to cheer her up," DeVoll writes.

Jackie was moved to the Brooklyn Hospital, which has special facilities for patients suffering from uremic poisoning

Child Known Here Is Killed Near Ravena Home in Mishap

A four-year-old girl who resides on the outskirts of Ravena, and who visited relatives at New Salem on Sunday with her parents, was fatally injured Tuesday afternoon, when a 175-pound statue near the front porch of her home toppled and fell on her.

Leslie Marie Irwin of Blossom Hill was pronounced dead on arrival at Albany Medical Hospital where she was rushed by the Ravena Rescue Squad. She apparently died of a fractured skull and other injuries, local relatives said.

Leslie was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Irwin and a cousin of Mrs. Gilbert E. Gray of New Salem, and Mrs. Joseph Orr of East Kingston. The little girl was a niece of Mrs. William Irwin, mother of Mrs. Gray who resides at the Gray home.

Mrs. Gray said Mr. and Mrs. Irwin and their children were Sunday guests at the Gray home. The Irwins are the parents of three sons.

According to reports, Leslie had just fed her pet dog and was playing near the statue when it toppled on her. The four-foot high statue is a figure of a stable groom and was an old time hitching post, which had been used many years ago to hold the reins of horses.

Albany County Coroner William Sherman withheld a finding pending further investigation by state police.

It was not immediately determined what caused the statue to fall from its location near the porch of the residence of the Irwins.

Some 60 sealers attended the school conducted by the State University of the New York Agricultural and Technical College at Alfred, along with the Bureau of Weights and Measures of the New York State Department of Agriculture and Markets, and the National Bureau of Standards, Office of Weights and Measures.

It was the second annual technical training school for sealers. Training dealt with modern methods of performing services for the public, and among subjects were the laws, laboratory procedures, standards, testing equipment and its most effective use, and control of enforcement techniques.

Certificates of merit were awarded by Assistant Commissioner John H. Stone, of the Department of Agriculture and Markets, on completion of training. Director Fred J. Fallon, of the Bureau of Weights and Measures was program coordinator.

Thought Beer Was Bomb

COOS BAY, Ore. (AP) — A party of sport fishermen thought international relations were warming up as they exchanged goods with about 30 crew members aboard a Soviet trawler 10 miles off the southern Oregon Coast.

But trading nearly came to an abrupt halt when a Soviet seaman opened a can of American beer passed to his vessel.

"The snap top came off easily, but with a hissing spray of beer," said Pat Rooney Jr.

In Haiphong Strike

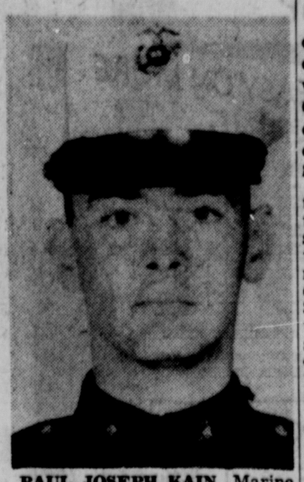

Fireman Apprentice Alan B. Roberts, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Roberts of 35 Chapel Street, Ellenville, has returned to his home port of Alameda, Calif., as a crew member aboard the attack aircraft carrier, USS Ranger, after an eight and one-half month deployment in the Western Pacific with the Seventh Fleet.

While operating off the coast of Viet Nam, the Ranger struck strategic sites in North Vietnam, delivering nearly 11,000 tons of ordnance on enemy positions.

The Ranger planned and executed the first strike against the Haiphong, Viet Nam petroleum, oil and lubricant storage facilities. This strike was said to have caused severe damage to the depot.

Other missions from the Ranger included strikes on railroads, bridges, highways and water traffic, seriously hampering the movement of war materials to the Viet Cong in South Viet Nam.

Engineman First Class Francis C. Pace, USN, son of Mrs. Marie Weibel of Union Center Road, Ulster Park, is serving aboard the newly-launched nuclear-powered Polaris-missile submarine USS Will Rogers.

Note Lions Club Of Kerhonkson Slates Contest

The youth of Kerhonkson-Accord area have been given a challenge to develop a plan for world peace by their local Lions Club — a challenge that could earn one of them a $25,000 educational and/or career assistance grant.

The Kerhonkson Lions Club, together with Lions Clubs throughout the world, is sponsoring a world-wide essay contest for the world's youth on the most important world subject today—Peace. The contest offers $50,000 in total awards, including the $25,000 first prize, eight semi-final world regional awards of $1,000 each and travel expenses for the eight winners to Chicago, Ill., in July, 1967. At that time, the first prize winner will be chosen from the eight. Also, more than 20,000 local, district and multiple district awards will be made.

"We are hopeful one of our young people will win this world-wide prestige award," President Sidney Chernick of the Kerhonkson Lions Club said in announcing the contest locally today.

The contest, open to young people who will be 14 but less than 22 years of age as of January 15, 1967, was announced by the president of Lions International, Edward M. Lindsey, of Lawrenceburg, Tenn., during the Association's Annual International Convention in New York.

"The Peace Essay Contest is divided into eight world divisions for the $1,000 prizes," Chernick said.

"Our club's winner will advance to Lions District 20-0 competition in his (her) effort to qualify for the multiple district contest."

"The purpose of the contest is to develop a formula for world peace because we feel peace is attainable," Chernick said. "We want to alert our youth to the need for world peace and focus attention on that important goal."

Contestants should submit their entry in essay form, not to exceed 5,000 words.

"Judging will fall into four categories: 75 per cent of the essay's points will be devoted to content, ten per cent to organization, ten per cent to style and five per cent to mechanics," Chernick said.

(The mechanics segment will be used to appraise the grammatical construction of the essay.)

"Three judges will be appointed to evaluate the entries submitted to our club," Sidney Chernick said.

"If our winner can advance through the judging stages up to the world finals he will receive an expense paid trip to Chicago to attend the Lions International 50th Annual Convention for the final judging of his essay in addition to the $1,000 award."

Chernick said he hoped local young people would accept the challenge and enter his club's section of the contest. Closing date for the club's contest is December 10, 1966.

"Students wishing to enter the contest should contact one of the Kerhonkson Lions to get full details of the contest," he said.

STAY-IN-SCHOOL DRIVE

President Johnson has said that in the life of an individual, education is always an unfinished task and in the life of this nation, the advancement of education is a continuing challenge.

This challenge has never been clearer, nor more urgent, than it is right now in view of the growing body of young Americans who are dropping out of school.

In October 1965, more than 10 million 16-to-24-year-old youths were out of school and in the work force. Over three million of them lacked a high school diploma.

Another 900,000-plus youngsters will be added to this growing battalion of dropouts this school year unless the Nation mounts its forces to prevent it from happening.

To head off this possibility and to encourage our youth to complete their education, President Johnson has launched the 1966 Youth Opportunity Stay-in-School Campaign.

Once, in America, a person could drop out of school and readily find a job. But, like it or not, that era, like the horse-and-buggy, has disappeared from our national scene.

Sure, there are jobs for dropouts in today's booming economy, but over the long pull, they will be harder and harder to find since the fastest-growing occupations demand a higher measure of skill and education than ever.

Yet, this grim fact haunts the Nation: by 1975, it is estimated there will be some 32 million adults in the labor force who didn't finish high school.

Space-age America can ill afford to allow this deplorable situation to develop and the dropouts themselves face lives of thwarted hopes, menial jobs, no jobs or underemployment.

For the youngster faced with the decision to continue his or her education, the answer can be reduced to a simple matter of dollars and cents—and perhaps, most of all, to common sense.

Over a lifetime, a high school graduate earns almost twice as much as the person who quit before finishing the 8th grade. Graduates earn almost 20 per cent more than non-graduates with but one to three years of high school.

A high school diploma is becoming a minimum requirement for jobs in our society. Our challenge — the challenge to everyone in this community—is to ensure that every single youngster gets at least a diploma.

The President's Stay-in-School Drive demands the full support and resources of our community — the schools, private businesses, civic and fraternal organizations, religious groups and local government. It's an indispensable investment in the future.

HOUSING STIMULUS

Congress has wisely moved to provide a tonic for the depressed housing construction industry. Although making more than four billion dollars of home loan money available to prospective buryers may not in itself pull the industry out of its slump, this action will act as a badly needed stimulus.

Housing construction has been in trouble for some time. Its difficulties spring from a variety of causes. But there seems to be little doubt that the rise in interest rates, which has tended to put new housing out of reach of an increasing number of Americans, is the chief culprit.

By making more money available for loans, Congress has offered a welcome palliative. Fundamental improvement in the housing construction picture depends on factors affecting the economy as a whole.

A REASONABLE DELAY

The proposed 10 per cent increase in St Lawrence Seaway tolls might bring a drop in traffic. The Stanford Research Institute has concluded, after a study of the matter, that such a drop could be expected.

It is with this in mind that the administration ought to consider the plea of 15 senators and 34 House members that the proposed increase be postponed for one year. Brisk use of this waterway which strikes deep into the Middle West is in the national interest. The danger that higher tolls would reduce traffic argues against putting the increase into effect until alternatives have been considered.

The 49 lawmakers say that postponing the increase would give Congress time to pass legislation revising the Seaway's financial structure so as to make higher tolls unnecessary. Congress should be given the opportunity to act. If it does not, there will be time enough to increase the tolls a year hence.

'These Days'

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

ARE ANTI-ANTI-COMMUNISTS STOOPING TO FORGERY?

This column has always been skeptical of the conspiracy theory of history. But what is one to make of the common element in the several "get-'em-out-of-there" cases that have recently been making the headlines from Washington?

First, there was the drive to get Otto Otepka out of his job as security evaluator in the State Department. Then came the big whoop-de-doo about Senator Tom Dodd's finances. While Otepka and Dodd were baring their breasts to the slings and arrows of outrageous fortune, there was a continual sniping at Tom Mann, the Latin American expert who had been shifted over to the position of handling world economic problems for Secretary of State Dean Rusk. And, just recently, Frances Knight, the competent head of the State Department passport division (she gets a passport for you in three days where it used to take up to six weeks), has had to put up with a spate of criticism that painted her as the ghost of Senator Joe McCarthy incarnate in a fighting hellcat.

What is interesting, and possibly significant, is that Otepka, Dodd, Tom Mann, and Frances Knight are all anti-Communists. Make what you will of it, this is a verifiable fact. While it would be easy to leap to the conclusion that there is a common "staff work" behind the several persecutions, one does not have actually to go that far. "Liberals" who are anti-anti-Communist have an uncanny ability to "get the line" without any rigamarole of prior consultation or briefing from a headquarters.

The Otepka and Dodd cases have been well publicized. The Mann case did not make so great a stir because Thomas Mann, a great gentleman, stoically put up with the pinpricks and innuendos until he could take it no longer, whereupon he quietly resigned to do some writing. The Frances Knight case is currently boiling, but Miss Knight seems to have a constitution of well-tempered steel behind her pleasant exterior, and it is the bet of this column that she will break the pattern and outlast her enemies. Women can be tougher than men, thank Heaven.

The most recent attack on Frances Knight involved a claim that she had written a letter to FBI chief J. Edgar Hoover on March 21, 1966, about an alleged FBI request that the passport division help run a surveillance on Harvard Professor H. Stuart Hughes while he was traveling abroad. Miss Knight was represented as writing to Hoover that she had received the Hughes business. "I am seriously afraid," so Miss Knight was represented as saying, "that this interest may indicate preparations for a sustained press campaign against us. We have already discussed the attitude of the Secretary of State toward this long-established practice of the department making inquiries at the request of the FBI. I cannot help expressing to you the alarm I feel at various pointers which, to my mind, show clearly that he is looking for suitable pretexts to put an end to this practice."

Any such letter might have indicated collusion between J. Edgar Hoover and the passport division to shadow Professor Hughes, who has opposed the Administration's Vietnamese War policy. Miss Knight has denounced the letter as a forgery. Furthermore, J. Edgar Hoover says he never received such a letter. And it turns out that the alleged conspiracy to snoop on Stuart Hughes was nothing more than a routine FBI request to the State Department to forward to it any newspaper clippings about Hughes' abroad. The FBI, you see, likes to keep up with what Pravda and Izvestia may be saying about Americans who go against Administration policy. But this is a rather ordinary duty of any bureau of investigation worth its salt. It could hardly be dignified as a "special" surveillance.

Since copies of the letter with the alleged signature of Miss Knight were anonymously distributed, the culprit may never be discovered. But this sort of campaign against an efficient public servant who happens to be an anti-Communist must surely backfire. It is obvious that Miss Knight isn't going to roll over and play dead.

The DOCTOR SAYS

Elastic Wrap: Stopgap Aid for Ailing Veins

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Q—After my first pregnancy I developed varicose veins. With each succeeding pregnancy I had to wear an elastic stocking. If I wear one now will it keep the veins from getting worse? Is it better to have varicose veins injected or removed?

A—Support of the weakened veins with an elastic stocking or a roller bandage with an elastic weave will neither cure your varicose veins nor prevent them from getting worse. If properly applied they will act as a temporary stopgap. Put it on before you get out of bed in the morning. While doing so keep your leg elevated above the rest of your body. The support should reach from your toes to just below your knees.

Such complications as leg ulcers, infection and the breaking loose of clots which may lodge in vital organs and obstruct their circulation may result when varicose veins are neglected. For this reason a permanent cure should be sought.

Injecting these veins with a clotting substance puts them out of circulation. After that they become scar tissue. Some surgeons disapprove of this method of treatment but if the clotting agent used is tetradecyl sulfate and if the operation is performed in the early stages of the disease the results may be satisfactory.

Removing the vein is the treatment that is most likely to cure the condition and is preferred by most surgeons. Frequently, following removal of the main offender, the surgeon will inject a clotting agent into the smaller varicosities that are left behind.

A new electronic device has been used successfully to destroy these stragglers. It works more quickly and effectively than the older method with minimal pain and gives a better cosmetic result. Following this operation the patient is able to wolk in about 12 hours and is completely recovered in 4 to 8 weeks.

Q—How reliable is Measurin for relief of pain?

A—This is aspirin put up in such a way that one capsule will give you the relief you expect from aspirin for 8 hours. Most people who take aspirin don't need such a prolonged action but for those who do these pills have some advantage.

Q—A girl friend of mine walks 3 or 4 miles every day. Instead of tiring her she says it gives her more energy. Is she overdoing it?

A—This is the paradox of exercise. By keeping you physically fit it makes you better able to use your energies. Four miles a day is not excessive for anyone who is in good health, provided she works up to this distance gradually.

'Look, Mr. President, WE Are Up for Re-election This Year'

Washington News

By BRUCE BIOSSAT,
Washington Correspondent
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

WASHINGTON (NEA) — When the President of the United States takes his show on the road, he is pretty sure of getting some comforts for his spirit that he cannot get at home.

For all its command posts and comunications centers, the White House is a place of isolation. In the world's greatest seat of power, the President does not have the full sense of it.

The moment he and his entourage move out onto the trail, however, things are different. Power is felt. The evidences are all around Lyndon Baines Johnson as he travels:

His resplendent aircraft, Air Force One, is just one item. Like mammoth black beetles, the presidential limousines leap (via air transport) from stop to stop. If needed, his service helicopters turn up, whirring and ready. A jet full of newsmen dogs his heels. A large contingent of White House staff people follows along.

For a few hours or days, the President can tame almost any patch of wilderness. A shaggy baseball field on a remote island, or a fading schoolhouse, becomes the world's focus.

No domestic critic of Johnson's Viet Nam policies can match that. No harassing liberal professor from Harvard can be piped aboard the USS Northampton, as was the President, with full ceremonial honor.

It can be a heady feeling for a man who, when he is in Washington, seems sometimes to get the idea that the nation is populated entirely by complainers against his policies.

Going onthe road, of course, provides other kinds of comfort. Lyndon Johnson wants to grab the hands of the nameless people that pollsters George Gallup and Lou Harris say are against him. He is simply unwilling to take their "no" for a final answer.

By Labor Day he very likely will have five road trips chalked up. He is moving in August as if it were October. Obviously, he could not wait to get into his traveling clothes.

There can be no question that the President genuinely wants to help Democrats campaigning for Congress and other offices. That is a president's traditional role in off-year elections, and he is a traditionalist in this regard.

Yet it may be easier for LBJ than for some of his predecessors to indulge in the transparent gestures which are intended to transform these forays into "nonpolitical" affairs.

For, fundamentally, he is hitting the trail as President, lavishly generous to the Republicans he drags along or encounters at various stops, lofty arbiter of the nation's great problems.

This gets us back to the prime fact: He is out there grasping hands, soaking up smiles, and flailing away at the windmills so he can tell himself—when he is back in his White House enclave — that the critics, the griping commentators and the bad-news pollsters just do not have it right.

In Maine recently, Lyndon Johnson acknowledged it flatly. Refreshed by contact with friendly people, he can "go back to Washington and listen to the complainers," whom he described bluntly as "martyrs all day long."

It does not seem to matter that some of the reassuring atmosphere he finds on the road is manufactured by his own diligent advance workers. Their zeal is impressive. Riding through New York's Catskill mountains, the President whisked by a road sign with placard attached. To the quick eye it read: End Fallen Rock Zone . . . Welcome LBJ.

By November a lot of fallen rock zones will have the LBJ brand upon them. For the President needs the tangible warmth of the country and its people.

Flocks of Democrats elected Nov. 8 would suit him fine. But the cheering refrain of " Hello, Lyndon" ("We've watched you strive . . . Hailed your drive"), sung by a chorus of 195 million Americans, would be a considerably more pointed reward.

Twenty and Ten Years Ago

Aug. 31, 1946 — Peak activity was reported at the local canning center in the former city home building, Flatbush Avenue.

Herbert C. Roth, of Lucas Avenue, became a member of the Wiltwyck Golf Club's "hole-in-one" elite.

A four-county meeting of educators was held at Goshen and included representatives of Ulster County schools.

August was reported a cool month with temperatures in the low forties and high thirties near its end here.

Aug. 31, 1956 — The Alma Hotel, south of the Highland traffic circle, was badly damaged by fire.

An Aug. 30 head-on collision on Route 28 at Ashokan fatally injured an IBM employe, his mother, infant daughter, and the driver of the other car.

Registration was scheduled for Sept. 17 at the State University Teachers College, New Paltz.

The Freeman published an architect's sketch of the proposed new IBM engineers' laboratory.

Jim Bishop: Reporter

The Congress has seldom exposed its cowardice more flagrantly than in the past month. It threatened labor with restrictive strike legislation every other day and did exactly what labor and management knew it would do—nothing. This is an election year. No Representative wants to go home with a record of having forced the airline machinists back to work.

And yet, there is no labor vote per se. John L. Lewis was the biggest, strongest labor leader in the ccountry in 1940, and he told one and all to vote for Wendell Willkie. Labor voted for Franklin D. Roosevelt. The myth of a united labor vote should have died then, but it didn't.

Let us also refute the fallible thesis that anyone who criticizes labor is pro-management. I worked in sweat shops when I was 14. My mother sewed rosettes on garters for a penny apiece. In 1933, my father's salary was chopped in half. A few of my relatives worked themselves to death in sweat and never caught up with what they owed the grocer. My grandfather died of silicosis shoveling bituminous coal from 7 a. m. to 7 p. m. six days a week.

I was a member of the representative assembly of the Newspaper Guild the year it was organized. My confreres would not have elected me if they thought I was anything less than rabid pro-labor. But labor then and labor now have d 'erent philosophies. The new one is Cripple and Grab.

When I was a boy, management was in the economic driver's seat and it was vicious. Now, labor runs the country and it is just as callous. Hundreds of millions of man-hours are lost each year because of strikes. Walkouts last longer and longer. The price tag for settlement goes higher and higher.

Great newspapers die in a limbo of silence, and hundreds of reporters, pressmen, stereotypers, compositors and mailers are out of work. The late Mike Quill squeezed New York City until Bob Sylvester suggested that Mayor Lindsay close up the city and reopen The World's Fair. Anrlines were beginning to show a fat profit and write-off payments on their $5,000,000 jets when the roof fell in. The Kohler plumbing strike went on for years, with no real winners.

Is there a way to stop the rest of us from getting a bloody nose while management and labor slug it out? The solution is up to Congress. The Representatives have had two decades since the Taft-Hartley Act was passed to spell out a means of keeping labor at work while protecting its rights to bargain collectively.

The solution was originally intended to be federal mediation. The government moves too late with too little. Mediation really amounts to listening and suggesting. Labor is in no mood to listen, because it knows it can get more by holding out.

Congress might try taking the profit out of strikes. If a company continues to operate while workers are on strike, let Congress escalate the tax on that company 100% while the walkout endures. But, by the same token, pass legislation taking the retroactive clause out of all union ccontracts. They should be valid only on the day of signing. This will take the bonus of a an August strike which, when settled, dates back to January first.

Let both sides be hurt. And further, union membership should be forced to give its leaders power to settle a strike in its own wisdom, as management does. In the airline strike, the machinists' leaders agreed tc an offer and were defeated in a vote by local membership. Management should not be placed in the position of selling the package to two buyers, one is enough.

If the leaders cannot be trusted, the locals need new leaders. Nor have the Presidential guidelines against inflation worked. The dollar becomes cheaper and cheaper; the poor pay the same exorbitant price for milk as the rich, and the poor have more children.

What this conutry needs is a sense of responsibility. No one begrudges labor's advances. It is a miracle to have lived to see the average laboring man with a car, a television set, and a son in college. The very rich have been taxed down to ranch-house style. This is now a truly middle-class nation. It is so good it has priced itself out the world market.

If Congress will take the big rakeoff out of strikes, while permitting labor to sit in equity at the bargaining table, America will have fewer strikes, and shorter ones. 'Ve are striving for leadership on all sides which will think of America first . . .

Says Truman's Words Based On Politics, Not Economics

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON, Aug. 30 — Former President Truman is a well-meaning person, but he has never forsaken the political environment in which he spent most of his life. The statement which he has just issued criticizing the Federal Reserve Board for raising interest rates is not an economic analysis but the political reaction of one who has been taught to believe that bankers are inhumane individuals who thrive on the plight of the borrowers of money.

"We know from long experience," writes Mr. Truman, "that a drastic rise in interest rates works a hardship on the consuming public. It only benefits the privileged few."

President Johnson apparently appreciates this palpable maneuvering—made just before the Congressional elections two months hence—to transfer the responsibility for the messy economic situation of today to the shoulders of the Federal Reserve Board and the bankers. Mr. Johnson quickly issued a statement also deploring the high interest rates, but said he couldn't agree with Mr. Truman that "our economy is in danger of a recession or depression." The President, however, did make a vague reference to alternative measures when he declared that "we need to find better ways to restrain inflationary pressure rather than by resorting merely to the high interest rates we have been witnessing."

Not a word did Mr. Truman or Mr. Johnson speak in behalf of any plan to increase taxes or to cut down government spending or to impose wage-and-price controls as a means of curtailing the demand for goods which has brought higher prices and a creeping inflation. Maybe the restraints that should be applied will come anyway after election, but right now it is deemed expedient for the Democrats to blame the other fellow for all their mishaps.

Tells Formula

Mr. Truman says that during his administration, when the Korean War caused a maladjustment in the economic life of this country, he didn't accede to demands for higher interest rates. But he did get a wage-and-price-control law and did put restrictions, too, on consumer buying. None of these correctives has been requested from Congress as yet by the Johnson administration. It has been feared that this might provoke public resentment before the coming congressional elections. Mr. Truman said:

"Of course, no one wants runaway inflation. But I think it is fair to say that that kind of inflation is no longer possible in the United States. What is more likely to happen is that we will bring on a percipitous deflation, if we persist in high interest practices. The result could be a serious depression."

Such a comment is reminiscent of what was being said in the 1920's, particularly the oft-repeated remark that "there couldn't be another depression." The Federal Reserve Board at that time had increased interest rates gradually, but suddenly pushed them upward sharply in August 1929. The action was too late and too hard.

This time the board's efforts should be successful, if its present policy of gradual restraint is maintained.

Memories are short. What, indeed, has brought about the artificial boom of today? To overcome the slowing down in business which had occurred in 1959 and 1960, the Democratic administration began to sponsor measures designed to bring "prosperity." The idea of a general decrease in taxes which came in 1964 was popular as a sequel to the tax credits and liberalization allowances given businesses in 1962 to influence them to increase their purchases of durable goods. Both the Kennedy and the Johnson administrations brushed aside apprehensions about big deficits in the federal treasury and relied on an artificial stimulus to the economy by means of huge federal subsidies.

Objectives Worthy

The objectives, of course, were worthy, but, as so often happens in giving too much weight to political considerations, the pace was too fast. Inflation was unwittingly encouraged. The gross national product was enlarged beyond any previous figure, and government spending was proclaimed by the administration as the greatest of virutes.

Now, however, that the economic balance has been adversely affected in part by domestic conditions and in part by unsound economic situations abroad, the time has come for moderation. Though painful, this can avert the serious deprfession that is so often the result of mismanagement of public policy and of being too much concerned with immediate political benefits.

HINTS FROM Heloise

I store my unused 3" x 5" cards in FRONT of the file in my recipe box.

This keeps the front index dividers from getting bent when the lid is closed.

Keep the helpful tidbits coming!

Mrs. Dennis Johnson

I'll keep 'em coming as long as gals like you send me smooth ideas like this one! Why didn't I think of it?

Heloise

Dear Heloise:

For readers who have a little girl who is always wanting a lipstick like mommie's, why not give her one?

Only let her lipstick be one of the sticks used for chapped lips instead of a real one. This stick can be purchased in any drug store, and will keep her away from mommie's lipstick and help keep her lips from becoming chapped. It serves a double purpose;

Just be sure the edges of the tube are not sharp so the child will not cut herself.

You could also paint the container with fingernail polish to make it prettier and look like yours.

Letter of Laughter

Dear Heloise:

Often when I am hurrying with my ironing, I think how much time I would have saved if I had married a short, small man.

My husband is 6 feet 4 and our 12-year-old son is 5 feet 7... it takes a LONG time to iron shirts, pajamas, etc., for these sizes!

Please don't print my name as I'm only kidding. I wouldn't have it any other way.

A Reader

Dear Heloise:

I have a small boy, just two years old, and he sometimes gets hold of a ballpoint pen and writes all over himself.

I tried everything to get this ink off him.

Soap works but you really have to scrub.

After trying everything I could think of, I stumbled onto the idea of using milk! Yes, just regular whole milk takes off every bit of ink and leaves the skin on!

The ink comes off easily without making the skin read and sore.

Ann Griffith

And thank heavens your hint works! I'd surely have had a messy looking arm for a while because I tried several different ballpoint pens on it. The milk took off the ink from everyone of the pens...just as easily and painlessly as you said.

Heloise

Dear Heloise:

I plan my ironing to coincide with a favorite television program.

Out comes the board, the iron, and a television tray.

The tray holds spray starch, water filter for the setam iron, a plastic spray-top bottle full of warm water, a cup of coff . . . and away I go.

Time and ironing pass quickly and I almost enjoy a chore I used to hate.

Mrs. A. Camacho

Dear Heloise:

In the past when making scallops on a blouse or dress, it was always so difficult to press them out flat in exactly the rounded shape I had sewn.

The other day I cut a piece of cardboard in the exact shape of the scallop and slipped it inside each one as I ironed them.

In minutes all the scallops were ironed perfectly.

I was so astounded at how easy it was, I just had to pass it on to others who sew a lot.

Samuels Refuses To Give Up Race; WantsNomination

NEW YORK (AP) — What makes Howard Samuels run?

Democrats keep asking this question as the 46-year-old millionaire industrialist from Canandaigua plugs away for the party's guternatorial nomination.

He smiles like a winner but the facts don't seem to agree.

"I am a winner," Samuels insists, brushing aside the fact that for all practical purposes New York City Council President Frank D. O'Connor has clinched the nomination.

Hopes for 2nd Ballot

"If I can stop O'Connor from winning the nomination on the first ballot then I'll be nominated on the second ballot," Samuels said Tuesday.

"There will be a lot of switching at the Buffalo convention," he predicted.

"A lot of things are moving and in politics things move fast, politicians shift positions quickly and right now the professionals are worried. They're afraid of losing. I'm not saying O'Connor's a loser but I am telling everybody who will listen to me that I'm a winner."

Samuels is looked upon favorably within the party and many of its leaders want him to run for lieutenant governor. They figure his Upstate popularity — and his millions — would be a big asset to O'Connor's ticket. But Samuels says he will not take the second spot "under any circumstances."

A visit with Samuels at his estate in Canandaigua in the Finger Lakes section of Central New York, adds to the mystery of the political ambitions of the businessman - investor - enquier. His wife, Bobbie, retains the beauty that made her a campus queen before their marriage. Their eight children are well disciplined and make visitors feel welcome.

Can Beat Rocky

"I might look like the man who has everything," says Samuels. "But I have a conviction that I can do more for New York State than any other candidate. I can beat Rockefeller and I'm going to fight for the nomination. And if I'm nominated I'll bet the Liberal party would support me."

Samuels continues to pay out of his own bank account for his campaign. He will not reveal the amount but it is obviousls substantial.

When asked why he continues to campaign for the nomination when the two other major candidates, Nassau County Executive Eugene H. Nickerson and Franklin D. Roosevelt, Jr. withdrew, Samuels snapped:

"Because I'm a winner and until we go down the drain t the convention I won't call it quits."

Tuesday, Samuels issued a position paper attacking alleged "negligence" by Governor Rockefeller in regards to the states' crime problem, and demanding Sen. Jacob K. Javits withdraw as a candidate for the state constitutional convention.

Angry Bettors Will Help Koota In Track Probe

NEW YORK (AP) — A grand jury investigation into possible harness racing fixing at three tracks opens today fueled by hundreds of tips from angry bettors.

Brooklyn Dist. Atty. Aaron Koota said Tuesday his office has been flooded with letters and telephone calls, many offering "promising leads."

Fifty six witnesses were subpoenaed to appear before the jurors today, including 21 drivers, several track officials and six reputed Cosa Nostra figures.

The probe centers on possible race fixing at Roosevelt, Yonkers and Monticello raceways, all out of Koota's jurisdiction. There were reports that district attorneys who do have jurisdiction over the tracks were irritated by Koota's investigation.

Koota met with all three Tuesday and justified his probe by saying that Brooklyn underworld figures are involved.

"This is the first opportunity I have had to discuss this with my colleagues at any length," Koota said after the meeting. "I have turned over no evidence of crime to any of the district attorneys."

William Cahn of Nassau said he would cooperate fully with Koota but had no plans for an investigation of his own at Roosevelt Raceway.

"I have no evidence with which to start a grand jury investigation," he said.

Yonkers Raceway is in Westchester County and Monticello is in Sullivan County.

Koota postponed appearances today by five top drivers because they are scheduled to ride in the Hambletonian, the three-year-old classic in Du Quoin, Ill.

Distress Signal

WICHITA, Kan. (AP)—Hugh Snell, who coaches a Little League baseball team, saw one of his outfielders waving to him from the field during a game. Snell waved back and so did the fielder but Snell was busy and took little note of it. When the inning was over the young outfielder, almost in tears, asked Snell: "How do you signal you have to go to the bathroom?"

Buffalo Considers New State Plan For City Shcools

BUFFALO N.Y. (AP)— Buffalo's Board of Education must consider a state plan recommending a change of the city's elementary schools into "early childhood centers" and the creation of integrated middle schools to improve both the quality of education and racial balance.

The plan was unveiled Tuesday by James E. Allen Jr. commissioner of the State Education Department who said that it was "tailor-made for Buffalo".

Recommended

Allen told the school board that the plan "represented a recommendation and not an order."

The board and interested groups were invited to study the plan for 30 days and then submit their written reactions to the state.

On first reading Dr. Joseph Manch superintendent of city schools and the board said they found little new in the proposals.

"Off hand the commissioner's plan contains a number of proposals discussed by the members of the school board from time to time" Anthony J. Nitkowski, board president, said.

The plan also calls for comprehensive four - year high schools with both academic and vocational programs. Each high school would emphasize a career area such as medical arts and draw from the city for attendance.

The early childhood centers would hold pre - kindergarten through fourth grade classes and remain neighborhood schools. Pupils in the fifth through eighth grades would be distributed to obtain racial balance in the middle schools.

Also suggested is a long - range development of a series of educational parks combining middle school and high school facilities.

$8.5 Million Add

The cost of the plan would be about $8.5 million more than the $55 million the school board has allocated for construction through 1971. Present elementary schools junior high schools and vocational and senior high schools would be used.

The plan was part of a report that stated Negro teachers were not found to any degree in the so - called segregational white schools and it suggested that there be a greater dispersal of them throughout the system. Segregation in the schools reflects the housing segregation in the city the report said.

The plan is the first phase of the state study of Buffalo public schools.

Six parents appealed to Allen in September 1964 to remedy the alleged racial imbalance in schools here. Allen ordered the city school board to submit a plan for the elimination of the imbalance.

Dissatisfied with the city plan submitted last year Allen authorized the state study.

Commander to Retire

POUGHKEEPSIE — Lieut. Col. James H. Ackerman Jr., Poughkeepsie, commanding officer, 2nd Battalion (Honest John Rocket) 156th Artillery, New York Army National Guard, officially announced his forthcoming retirement from the Army National Guard at a formation of the members of his battalion held Tuesday night at the State Armory, 61 Market Street, Poughkeepsie. The formation climaxed a scheduled four-hour post field training assembly of all units of the command. Following his announcement to the officers and men, Colonel Ackerman called for the presentation of an award to First Sergeant Charles J. Morano, Poughkeepsie, a member of Headquarters Battery. Morano was presented with a medal and certificate for his more than 20 years of long and faithful service to the State of New York. The battalion stood at attention while the award was being made and the certificate was read by Captain Patrick J. McIntyre Jr., Poughkeepsie, the battalion adjutant.

Trampled by Horse

GENESEO N.Y. (AP)— Patrick J. Lowther 79 of Geneseo died Tuesday after being trampled by a horse at a boarding stable he and his wife operated at their home.

Lowther a trainer and breeder of horses and his wife Elizabeth were trimming the animal when it knocked Lowther to the concrete floor of the stable. The horse then reared and landed on the man's chest.

Lowther lived on Route 39.

A treaty with England added the Oregon country to the U. S. in 1846.

Bogart, Wicks Will Compete At State Fair

Warry Bogart and Zeno Wicks were judged the best 4-H tractor operators in Ulster County and won the right to demonstrate their skills at the New York State Exposition at Syracuse, Jamie Rattray, summer assistant to the 4-H program, announced yesterday.

Warry, 16, of Stone Ridge, and Zeno, 14, of Accord, literally drove to victory in the annual 4-H tractor program held at Forsyth Park. They have satisfactorily completed a 4-H project, including safety, servicing, care and maintenance, and have become proficient in operating a farm tractor, the agent said.

At Syracuse all the county winners will take written and practical examinations. The 40 contestants receiving the highest score will be invited to participate in the operators' contest. The top twelve youths in this event will go to the Eastern States 4-H tractor operators' contest in Richmond, Va., Sept. 23-25, with the state winners vying for regional honors.

Warry has been a 4-H Club member for three years and has completed 3 years of 4-H tractor projects.

Zeno has been in 4-H Club work for three years and began his tractor project three years ago.

The Ulster County Extension Service with the cooperation of the following farm equipment dealers are sponsoring the county contest:

Anderson's Garage, Accord; Davenport Implements, High Falls; Edmunds Garage, Wallkill; New Paltz Tractor and Equipment Co., of New Paltz; Valley Farm Supply, Wallkill and the American Oil Company.

In the Grange competetion held at the Ulster County Fair at Forsyth Park, local granges places as follows:

Class "A". Plattekill first; Milton, second; Highland, third; Ulster, fourth.

Class "B". Asbury, first; Rosendale, second; Hurley, third and Mt. Tremper, fourth.

General Schriever Will Retire Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gen. Bernard A. Schriever, who staked his Air Force career on his belief that missiles rather than bombers were the weapons of the future, retires today.

A special review and a flyby of 19 aircraft were scheduled in his honor.

The success of Schriever's fight for missiles, begun when he was an obscure colonel in the early 1950's, is reflected in the Air Force Systems Command, the multibillion-dollar research program he has headed since 1959.

It also is reflected in the rocket-like rise in rank that brought Schriever from colonel to four-star general in seven years.

Until 1952, Schriever recalled recently, "I had been more interested in big bombers as a deterrent force. Then the picture changed, with smaller payloads missiles became more practical."

Cardinal Retires

BOLOGNA, Italy (AP) — Giacomo Cardinal Lercaro, 74, announced Tuesday night he will offer his resignation as archbishop of Bologna because of old age. He is the first cardinal to make such an announcement since Pope Paul VI suggested earlier this month that heads of dioceses retire by age 75.

$2.5 Million Airport Planned On Staten Island

NEW YORK (AP) — Mayor John V. Lindsay has disclosed city plans to build a $2.5 million airport on Staten Island for small private planes and light cargo aircraft.

If plans are approved by the Federal Aviation Agency, construction could start in August 1967 and be completed within 18 months.

Half of the total cost would be borne by the federal government, and the rest by the city, the mayor said.

The purpose of the airport, Lindsay said, would be to "accelerate the development of private industry by providing air travel service and parking space for executive aircraft and the storage and transportation of light cargo."

The field would have only one runway initially, capable of handling an aircraft up to the size of a fully loaded DC-3, and would not be large enough for jets. It would be equipped only for visual flight operations, precluding its use in bad weather.

The airport would be expected to relieve some of the congestion at La Guardia, Kennedy and Newark Airports. At present, Flushing Airport in Queens is the only general service airport in the city.

The site for the new airport is 120 acres of city-owned land in the Fresh Kills section of the borough between the West Shore Expressway and the Arthur Kill Road. The area is now being filled in with garbage.

U. S. Farm Workers Hold Union Election

DELANO, Calif. (AP) — California farm workers and agricultural growers waited today for results of an historic labor representation election.

Counting began today, but final official returns could be delayed because of numerous challenges.

Secret ballots, padlocked in black containers, were sped by the Highway Patrol from the Di Giorgio Corp.'s Sierra Vista grape ranch in the southern San Joaquin Valley near Delano to the San Francisco office of the American Arbitration Association.

State Conciliation Service officials said the 15-hour balloting was the first such union representation election held among American farm workers. The outcome could immediately affect only those employed on the one ranch, but the union which wins would hold a strong hand in planned union votes among the state's estimated 80,000 farm laborers.

To Lift Barrier

SWEET BRIAR, Va. (AP) — Fashionable Sweet Briar College, citing the protection of a temporary federal court restraining order, will ignore racial restrictions in the will of its founder and admit the first Negro student in its 61-year history.

A spokesman said Tuesday night the board of overseers of the 720-student, four-year girls' school — faced with the probable loss of federal funds — had voted last May 28 to "implement an open admission policy."

The Negro student, Marshalyn Yeargin of Greenville, S.C., will be a member of the junior class. She has finished two years at Bennett College, Greensboro, N.C., and plans to major in biology.

Under terms of the will of Indiana Fletcher Williams — the subject of litigation in state and federal courts the last two years — Sweet Briar plantation in Amherst County was bequeathed in trust to become a college "for the education of white girls and young women."

Increase Postal Rates

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House has passed and sent to President Johnson a bill that would increase rates and package sizes for parcel post.

Packages now are limited to 20 pounds and 72 inches in combined length and girth for first-class offices 150 miles or more apart.

The new bill provides that by next July 1 the weight limit would go to 25 pounds, a year later to 30 and on July 1, 1969, to 40 pounds. The measurement limit would be increased to 78 inches in 1970 and to 84 inches in 1971.

At smaller post offices, the present limits of 70 pounds and 100 inches would be retained.

The new bill also would put into effect by next July 1 rate increases averaging about eight cents a parcel.

HISTORIC OLD WINDMILLS, traditional symbol of the Netherlands, stand as silent witnesses to the advent of a new source of power that promises to transform the Dutch economy. Excavation crews in foreground are preparing to dig trenches for a natural gas transmission line. After the pipe is laid, the landscape will be restored to its original beauty while, unseen, the gas line taps the second largest reservoir of the resource in the world—estimated at 39 trillion cubic feet—discovered at Slochteren in the northern part of the country.

Unwed Parents Face Indictment In Seeking Aid

FREEHOLD, N.J. (AP) — Unwed parents seeking county aid for their children may get an indictment for fornication or adultery, Monmouth County officials say.

Freeholder Marcus Daly, a member of the county's governing board, said Tuesday that such persons will be reported for prosecution on whichever charge applies.

Both offenses are misdemeanors. In New Jersey, misdemeanors require a grand jury indictment.

Daly said Monmouth County spends about $1.5 million a year for about 3,000 dependent children — many from unwed parents.

Daly, in charge of county welfare, announced the new plan after conferring with the county prosecutor, the acting welfare director, the chief of county detectives and a welfare board attorney.

"Our idea is to force parents to accept their responsibility under threat of a jail term," Daly said.

Army Gets Painting

FT. RILEY, Kan. (AP) — An original oil, "Mexican Cavalry Moving," by American painter Frederic Remington, has been returned to its owner — the 1st Armored Division. The painting had been stored at the Nelson Gallery in Kansas City, Mo., for about 25 years and was returned recently to the Ft. Riley Museum.

Denies Selecting Atom-Smashing Site

WASHINGTON (AP) — Dr. Glenn T. Seaborg, chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission, denies a decision has been made on the site for a $375-million atom-smasher.

Seaborg said reports that a choice had been made were untrue at a meeting Tuesday with New York State officials and congressmen who presented the case for Brookhaven National Laboratory on Long Island as the site for the project.

Seaborg said the choice would be made on the sites' merits, adding:

"We're not ready to talk yet."

Other areas under consideration for the 200-billion - volt accelerator are in California, Colorado, Illinois, Michigan and Wisconsin.

Oliver Townsend, director of the State Office of Atomic and Space Development, read a statement for Gov. Rockefeller which told of arrangements already made at Brookhaven for the project.

The state has appropriated $3.7 million to purchase the 2,000 acres that would be needed.

Fantastic Kill

CORPUS CHRISTI, Tex. (AP) — Dr. R. W. Metzger, city health director, says Corpus Christi had a "fantastic kill" of the encephalitis-bearing culex mosquito from spraying with an insecticide.

"We have two experts out looking for the female culex mosquito and they can't find any," he said Tuesday. "We can assume we have broken the back of the epidemic."

Three Air Force planes completed spraying of this Gulf Coast area Tuesday. Metzger said two deaths resulted from encephalitis and there were 35 confirmed and 55 suspected cases of the disease.

Encephalitis has claimed 11 lives in Texas, including seven in Dallas and one each at Tulia and Amarillo.

Dallas was the hardest-hit area with 91 confirmed cases and 22 suspected.

A native of St. Clair Shores, Mich., Hansen graduated from Hillsdale College in 1952 and received his masters degree from the University of Detroit in 1954. He has been employed by the Huck Manufacturing Company of Detroit since 1962 and prior to his recent appointment was an assistant to the vice-president of operations in Detroit.

Hucktrol Inc. is a wholly-owned subsidiary of the Huck Manufacturing Company and is principally involved in the manufacture of hydraulic and pneumatic installation tools for the Huck fastening system.

Mr. and Mrs. Hansen and their two children are planning to relocate to the Kingston area in the near future.

Calls President's Club, Sordid Mess Urges Clean Up

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Charles E. Goodell, R-N. Y., says he has enough information on the President's Club to "suggest a sordid mess which must be cleaned up, not swept under the rug until November."

With that, Goodell called Tuesday for a probe of the club, which is composed of persons who contribute $1,000 or more to the Democratic Party campaign funds.

Goodell said there have been "maladorous disclosures involving the President's Club," including "a web of political intrigue and influence - peddling which has been partially uncovered in California."

The California case, Goodell said, involved the spending of more than $1.3 billion on new Veterans Administration hospitals, with the "unchecked and arbitrary channeling of millions upon millions of taxpayers' dollars to the lucky favorites of political decision - makers."

"It implicates Republicans and Democrats, liberals and conservatives as well as political hermaphrodites."

Goodell is among Republicans who question the propriety of some contributions to the club by officials of firms that have large government contracts.

Goodell, of Johnstown, represents the 38th congressional district.

66 on Bobby's Staff

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., had 66 persons on his office payroll as of June 30, more than half of them part-time workers.

The Kennedy work force on the Senate payroll was the biggest in any Senate office.

It included 18 college students employed as summer interns in a program designed to acquaint them with the workings of government.

Kennedy's senior colleague, Republican Jacob K. Javits, listed 41 workers, including 16 part-time, in the semi annual report of the secretary of the Senate.

A spokesman said today Javits also employed five interns, paying them from personal funds.

The total Kennedy payroll for the next six months of this year was $129,302. Javits' employes were paid $123,162 in government funds.

TODAY IN HISTORY

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Wednesday, Aug. 31, the 243rd day of 1966. There are 122 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1902, the Danbury hatters' suit was brought against labor union members by companies claiming to have been damaged by their boycott. It was the beginning of one of the most famous litigations in labor history.

On this date.

In 1842, the United States Bureau of Medicine and Surgery was formed.

In 1942, German Field Marshal Erwin Rommel launched his final attack in Egypt.

In 1944, Sen. Harry S. Truman accepted the Democratic vice-presidential nomination.

In 1946, the Nuremberg trial of 21 major war criminals ended.

Ten years ago — The United States accused Communist China of shooting down a Navy patrol plane and said it would demand compensation.

Five years ago — The White House said the Soviet Union's announcement that it would resume tests of nuclear weapons was, in its words, "primarily a form of nuclear blackmail, designed to substitute terror for reason."

Questions and Answers on Federal Tax

This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the local office of the U. S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

Q—Are fees paid to a veterinarian for a pet a deductible medical expense?

A—No, they are not.

Q—I reached an agreement with your Appellate Division. How can I be sure that someone won't decide to open the case up again?

A — Agreements executed on Form 870AD reached with Appellate are final. Cases are not reopened unless there is evidence of fraud, malfeasance, concealment, misrepresentation of material facts or an important mathematical mistake.

Dues As Deduction

Q—I joined a country club this summer so I would have a suitable place to entertain my clients. Will my dues be deductible?

A—Country club dues are treated as an expenditure for an entertainment facility and come under special rules. For any part of your dues to be deductible, you must show that during the year you used the facility—the club—more than 50 per cent of the time for business purposes. If you qualify under the 50 per cent rule, then you can deduct the pro rata portion of your dues that is "directly related" to the active conduct of your trade or business. Out-of-pocket costs of business entertaining would be deductible under general entertainment rules.

Q—I make less than $3,000, yet my return was audited this year. Why do you bother to examine the returns of small income taxpayers when the corrections of errors and omissions produces so little additional tax revenue?

A—In the administration of the tax laws, the Revenue Service seeks to assure each taxpayer that he pays neither more or less than is required of him. Regardless of the amount of income, some returns are selected for audit as a pattern to measure this standard of compliance. The fact that a possible adjustment to a return is small is never a reason in itself for not examining the return No taxpayer should feel that his return is exempt from examination.

Q—My home was damaged in a storm. Will before and after pictures be enough to establish our casualty loss?

A—The photos will be helpful but you should be prepared to show evidence of the cost of the home, including improvements, the value of the property before and after the casualty, cost of the repairs, and insurance reimbursement, if any. Records to show these things should be kept for tax purposes.

Q—In a divorce, what expenses are deductible? How about the alimony I pay, under the court decree, lawyer's fees for getting the divorce, and child support payments? Also, who is entitled to claim the children's medical expenses?

A—Periodic payments of alimony may be deducted if you itemize your deductions. Child support payments, specifically designated as such in the decree, legal fees to get the divorce, and lump sum cash settlements are not deductible.

The medical expenses you pay for your children may be deducted if the children qualify as your dependents, or would qualify as your dependents except for the fact that they had $600 or more income or filed point returns with their spouses.

Q—When is the next installment of estimated tax due?

A—It is due September 15.

Q—We hired a tutor to help our son make up some work in school. Do we have to withhold income and Social Security taxes from what we pay him?

A—If the tutor is an independent contractor, like a lawyer or doctor, you would not be required to without income or social security taxes from amounts paid for his services since an employer - employe relationship would not exist between you. This same rule would also apply to amounts paid to a music teacher.

Q—My daughter is having a big wedding and I have invited quite a few of my business associates. Since there is this business connection, will any of the wedding expenses be deductible?

A—No. These are personal expenses and not deductible.

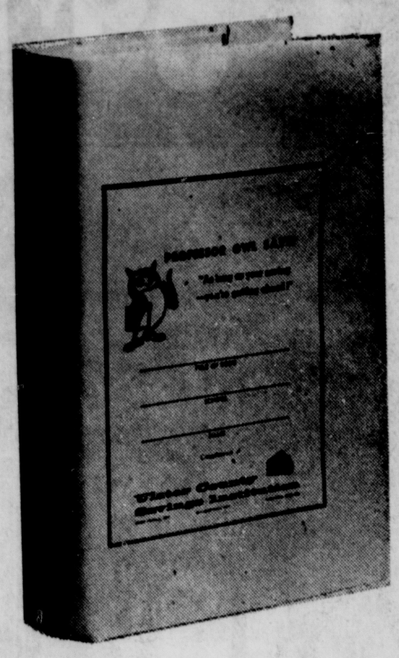

NASA to Study Sun

WASHINGTON (AP) — The National Aeronautics and Space Administration plans to orbit the earth with a manned spacecraft in 1968 to study the sun during increased solar activity.

The spacecraft, equipped with telescope mount and instruments for observing the sun, will attempt high-resolution measurements and observation of the sun's structure and behavior during the stepped-up solar activity that occurs every decade or so.

NASA said its Marshall Space Flight Center at Huntsville, Ala., will be responsible for the project and experiment development.

Today's Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON, AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — August is ending with a climax of worries for countless Americans.

The stock market has been stumping the experts — and paining millions of shareowners.

The cost of living has been rising — and the outlook for the future is far from reassuring.

Interest rates are soaring. This adds to the cost of doing business or of buying anything from a house to a kitchen appliance on time. The U.S. Treasury this week for the first time had to pay more than 5.5 per cent to borrow money through 6 - month bills. The price of Treasury bonds already in the hands of investors has fallen almost steadily.

Presidential Battle

President Johnson and former President Harry S. Truman are at odds as to what all this may forebode, although both prefer low interest rates to today's level — the highest in 40 years.

The former president sees a possibility of tight money causing a business decline that might lead to a general recession, or worse, next year. The current president says that high interest rates — unwelcome though they may be — are evidence of a booming prosperity too strong to be in danger of a business decline in the foreseeable future.

And while the two political leaders argue, businessmen note that industrial prices continue to rise along with the interest rates. This week increases were announced in cement prices and in some steel fabrications. These are but the latest additions to a long list of industrial material price hikes during August.

Home Building Drops

This month has seen a big drop in home building. Contracts are off 25 per cent. Builders say they can't find financing for construction. House hunters say they can't find mortgage lenders — or can't afford the larger down payments and higher interest charges.

Congress has voted funds to replenish the dried-up mortgage market, but August has given little hope of any drop in either the costs of building or of financing a home purchase.

Bankers say they are often hard put to find lendable funds to finance businessmen's fall activities. But the plans to expand current operations and to build new plants and buy new equipment continue to rise in dollar volume.

Rolison Names R. Frank Vacca Fiscal Advisor

R. Frank Vacca, a former president of the Dutchess County Young Republican Club, has been named campaign advisor for fiscal affairs for Jay P. Rolison Jr., Republican candidate for state senator in the Dutchess-Ulster District.

Vacca, resident manager of Allstates Design and Development Co. Inc., in Poughkeepsie, will advise and assist Rolison on fical matters.

A lifelong Dutchess County native, Vacca resides at 27 Grand Avenue, Poughkeepsie, with his wife and family.

"I feel Mr. Vacca's experience in the Dutchess County Young Republican Club will prove highly valuable," said Rolison, "and he should be of great assistance in helping us to get our message across to younger voters."

Besides serving as former president of the Dutchess Young Republicans, Vacca presently is vice president of the Second Ward Republican Club in Poughkeepsie. He has had previous campagin experience workin for candidates for both city and county offices.

Matter of Fact

Mink is the most popular fur in the United States. Minks have been raised in captivity for their fur since 1866 but were not produced in great quantity until around 1930. Fox farmers converted to raising mink and today the production of ranch-raised mink is about 6 million animals per year. Mink accounts for 75 per cent of the fur trade. Wisconsin produces one-third of the total.

Hand Is Simple But Instructive

By Oswald & James Jacoby
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Jim says: "Here is a simple but very instructive hand. North's double of two hearts was for takeout. He had excellent support for either spades or clubs and did not see any reason to give up merely because his partner had been unable to bid over East's heart overcall."

Oswald: "The interesting feature of the bidding is South's jump to three spades. He reasons that North has shown willingness to play at two spades even if South holds four little spades. Hence, South promotes his spade suit to jumping strength."

Jim: "Without South's jump it is doubtful whether North would be able to find another bid. With it North has no worries about going on to game."

Oswald: "The first point in the play is that West should open a trump. He can see that North is going to be short in hearts and South short in diamonds and should try to reduce the number of tricks that could be won by a cross-ruff."

Jim: "If West happened to open a trump, South's bidding would not have been successful. The defense would get a chance to lead a second trump some time or other and South would be held to seven trump tricks and two diamonds."

Oswald: "West did open the deuce of hearts. East won with the king and shifted to a trump but the shift came too late to keep South from making his contract."

Jim: "South had an easy way to throw the game away. Had he played the six of spades on the trump lead it would have been just to bad for him. However, South was careful to play a high spade in order to hold the trick in his hand. Then he ruffed a heart in dummy, cashed the two high diamonds and cross-ruffed the rest of the way to his ten tricks."

Parents Must See Beatles Bonanza As Social Freak

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The Beatles have come and gone collecting $146,000 for moaning 10 songs in 27 minutes.

By way of social commentary their pay exceeded the combined annual salaries of the President and Vice President of the United States.

To the adult a Beatle concert must be viewed as a social phenomenon since it is impossible to enjoy as entertainment. Even those with a feeling for some of the Beatle songs can find little pleasure because of inaudibility.

The Thomas group made its third annual pilgrimage to hear the Beatles. Nancy 18 and ready for college showed no disenchantment for the mop-tops. Janet 14 was in the full throes of fandom. Caroline 8 was a new entry and not lacking in enthusiasm.

Site Was Appropriate

This year the concert was in Dodger stadium instead of Hollywood Bowl and it seemed more fitting for the event to take place in a sports arena rather than a citadel of longhair music.

Dodger stadium looked somewhat like the Berlin border. Burly guards stood at the bottom and midway of each stairway leading to the field. Uniformed policemen with helmets and billy clubs lined the field some of them communicating with walkie-talkies. Behind them were three rows of hurdles then came a newly erected wire fence.

Preliminary acts poured a torrent of noise through the 27 speaker 2000-watt public address system while the 40000 onlookers grew restless and stared at each other. There was much to stare at. One bearded chap on my aisle wore the headdress and robes of an Arab sheik another sported a green velvet cape.

Sex Was Dubious

The girl next to me with the orange page-boy bob turned her head and I discovered she was a fellow.

At 9:33 the Beatles came out of the dugout at third base and it was noisy. On yes it was.

At 10 p.m. the Beatles had finished their labors and disappeared into a tent behind the bandstand. Two limousines raced from the tent and out of the ballpark amid screams.

Review by the Thomas girls: "They didn't sing enough new songs. George's hair was a mess. Paul was the only one who tried to please. They seemed bored. But they're cool. Yes they're cool. I love the Beatles."

Ridgely Cow Is Awarded Credit By Dairy Group

Credits for lifetime milk production in excess of 100 tons have been awarded to four New York Registered Holstein cows by Holstein-Friesian Association of America. Among them is Ridgely M Proud Queen owned by Ridgely Farms, Stone Ridge.

Ridgely M. Proud Queen's actual lifetime output stands at 239,542 pounds of milk and 9,174 pounds of butter fat. At 7 years, 7 months of age, she started her highest yearly record, when she was milked thrice daily for 354 days to produce 32,130 pounds of milk and 1,174 pounds of butterfat. Her career in food production spanned a lifetime of nearly 15 years.

Capital Society Slows Pace Down During Summer

By KELLY SMITH

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice president Hubert H. Humphrey sat down at the banquet table and devoured a melon "the first food," he announced, "I've had since breakfast."

Humphrey is a Washington summer bachelor.

The capital is usually hot and humid in July and August. Business slows. The social circuit all but stops, and the transplanted Americans take off for the mountains, the seashore and the in-laws, leaving dad to run the nation.

Slides to Low C

From June, until after Labor Day, when school starts, the capital tempo slides to low C.

Ambassadors, tensed by the social pace, head for the hills to recuperate.

Italian Ambassador Sergio Fenoaltea announced he was going to the Alps, "10,000 feet up where there are only cows."

Ambassador B. K. Nehru of India said he had bought "a Eurailpass that will enable me to stop anywhere incognito."

French Ambassador Charles Lucet saw his wife home to Paris, then went lawn bowling in Newport, R.I. Liberian Ambassador S. Edward Peel rented a station wagon and drove West.

Romanian Ambassador and Mrs. Petre Balaceau, home for a rest, even missed their embassy's national birthday party.

Instead of the winter season's pace of five to 10 parties a night on Embassy Row, there are more like five to 10 a week. And these are mostly informal gatherings.

Many Visitors

A line of people, perhaps the longest in the country, comes to Washington in summer.

Thousands line up to tour the White House between 10 a.m. and noon. The line forms as early as 6 a.m., and by midmorning often stretches down the ellipse half a mile.

The White House Tour Office said 20,000 people visited the East Room one Saturday.

The Washington Monument extended its hours from 5 until 11 p.m. to accommodate tourists. But still, guards say, people gripe because they can't go up and down all night.

Summer is music.

Its honkytonk records on the Georgetown patio of Sen. Mike Mansfield, D-Mont.

Too Noisy?

It's complaints from Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., and Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara about nightly shows at an open air hotel nightclub.

Entertaining under the stars, they say, is romantic. But the sounds drift down Rock Creek Park at night and keep them awake.

In summer, the so-called "T to T" club has more members. That stands for Tuesday to Thursday and is directed at congressmen who show up in the House and Senate three days a week instead of five.

Summer offices don't stay open quite so late, and lunches at sidewalk cafes last a little longer.

In summer, some say, Washington is Dullsville.

Summer is a president wiping his brow, looking out his office window toward the Washington Monument, and commenting it's a "good weekend to go home."

TROOP 20 CAMP-OUT — Boy Scouts of Troop 20 put rustic, picturesque sign in place at their Old Hurley Camp last week; then stand back to admire their handiwork. Among those attending the week-long camp-out were (on table l-r) Scout Master Robert Lawton and Timothy McGuire; on ground (l-r) Jim Woodward, Bruce Webster, Tom Petty, James Gogg, Jeoffery Lawton, John Mizel, Bill Lang, Douglas Whitaker and Bruce Harkin. Other Scouts who were active in the camp-out but were not present for the picture were: Senior Patrol Leader Steve Hofler, John Rioux, John Gill, John Walker and Michael Botsford. Hurley Scouting Camp Activated; Site Improved

Under the leadership of Scoutmaster Robert Lawton, Boy Scout Troop 20 of Hurley has spent an active summer. Fifteen boys have just completed a week-long camp-out at the troop's Old Hurley Boy Scout Camp; spent last week in activities which proved to be both fun and educational.

A typical day at the camp got underway at 7:30 a.m. with reveille and the building of breakfast fires. Breakfast, served an hour later, often included such norishing foods as French toast, hot cereal, fried eggs and hot chocolate. General clean-up followed when cooking and eating utensils were scoured and sleeping bags were hung out while the camp area was policed. Later in the morning, Scouts entered into various activities, including conservation work, ropetying, code practice, hiking, etc.

Following a noon lunch of sandwiches, cold drinks and cookies, boys spent the afternoon in recreational activities such as swimming, baseball, berry picking, etc. By late afternoon, they were ready to wash up and start supper fires in preparation for 5:30 p. m. dinner, featuring such foods as roasted chicken, corn on the cob, steak with vegetables, bread baked on a stick and cake. After-meal clean-up was followed by preparing tents for sleeping, stories and games around the camp fire and taps at 10 p. m.

Three Acre Area

Troop 20 Scouts carved their camp out of approximately three acres of wooded area, donated exclusively for their use by Jack Gill, Hurley resident. Work on developing the camp began last June, when Scouting activities usually slow down for the season. At that time, Scoutmaster Lawton continued his troop's activities by leading them in the clearing and organization of the camp site. Several over-night work parties were required for these tasks. Dead trees were felled and retained for firewood; scrub brush and old fences were cleared away; grass was cut and, eventually, after several weeks of hard work, the land took form as an enjoyable camp layout.

The site is constantly being improved. At present it boasts the following assets: sleeping accommodations for 30 Scouts, sand lot baseball field, picnic tables flag pole, inspected well-water with hand pump (dug and the point driven by hand), fire pit for cooking and campfire fellowship and a modernized "A" frame outhouse for added comfort.

An adjacent stream has been roped off to afford a fine, health-inspected swimming hole. Boys have constructed a raft with boarding ladders for added fun.

Troop Has Grown

Through Scoutmaster Lawton's efforts, Troop 20 now has one of the finest outdoor programs for development of Hurley youth. During his brief association with Troop 20, it has grown from 20 to 50 boys.

Credit must also be given to Hurley Lions Club (Troop 20 sponsor), for without their monetary support this project would not have been possible. Also, Richard Rioux (Hurley Cub Scoutmaster), Raymond Foisey (Institutional Representative), Robert Lawton Sr. (Scoutmaster Lawton's father) and Michael Hofler (second class Scout) have put much time and effort toward making this camp a success.

Senate Confirms Mrs. Motley as Federal Judge

WASHINGTON (AP) — Mrs. Constance Baker Motley of New York City has become the first Negro woman named a federal judge.

She was confirmed by the Senate Tuesday in a voice vote to sit on the bench of the U.S. District Court for Southern New York.

The state's two senators, Republican Jacob K. Javits and Democrat Robert F. Kennedy, rose in the Senate to defend Mrs. Motley, prior to her approval, when Sen. James O. Eastland, O-Miss., linked her to activity in a communist group in the early 40s.

Eastland read a transcript from a Senate Internal Security subcommittee hearing in which an unidentified woman testified that Mrs. Motley had been active in the Young Communist League in 1942-43.

Eastland is chairman of the Senate Judiciary Committee, which had delayed action of her appointment since it was made by President Johnson last January.

Javits said Mrs. Motley had twice run for elective office and that her past had been subjected to close scrutiny then.

Kennedy said that both the President and the Justice Department had access to details on Mrs. Motley's background and it was "hardly likely" they would have recommended her for the federal bench if she had any communist associations.

Mrs. Motley, 44, is a former Manhattan borough president and state senator.

She was born in New Haven, Conn., holds degrees from Fisk, New York and Columbia universities and is married and the mother of a son.

Scarecrow Cannon Problem for People

MILLINGTON, N.J. (AP) — A funny-looking scarecrow that goes boom every 15 minutes of the day and night does a pretty good job scaring birds and deer — but people, they're another story.

Residents of this town have had about enough of a two-foot-long cannon used by farmer Philip Bardy to chase wild life from his fields.

"The dogs bark all night," one said, "the children cry and some people lie awake waiting for the damn thing to go boom — just like waiting for the other shoe to drop."

And go boom it does. The cannon is timed to boom automatically every 15 minutes.

In the daytime, the cannon is located near a cornfield to scare away blackbirds. At night, it's moved to a tomato and melon patch to frighten herds of deer that had fed there regularly until April 15 — the day it was installed.

Airman Dies in Wreck

WATERTOWN, N. Y. (AP)— Dwight F. McMahan, 21, an airman stationed at the Dry Hill Air Force station here, was killed early today when an automobile in which he was riding struck a utility pole along Route 11, about 5 miles south of this northern New York City.

Police listed his address as Box 195, Watertown.

Hamilton Fish Predicts Strikes, Rapid Inflation Soon

A prediction of a wave of strikes and runaway inflation by early October, was issued today by Hamilton Fish Jr., Republican candidate for Congress in the 28th District.

"In this time of uncontrolled spiraling inflation labor leaders must move to protect their membership in a bid to keep wage levels up with the wave of rising prices," Fish said.

"It seems clear to every leading economist that the round of strikes with complete runaway price hikes will be in full swing by October."

The Republican Congressional candidate pointed out that he was not faulting labor leaders in this bid. "It is their job to look after the interests of their membership. I say that it is the Democratic Administration's job to look after the welfare of the people, and in this they have failed miserably."

Scores Resnick

Fish scored the Democrats for "statistical trickery" in their claim that there is "no inflation," and dubbed incumbent Congressman Joseph Y. Resnick as "little sir echo" in his bid to back the administration's untenable position.

In his statement Saturday that the people of the country either face up to "the problems of prosperity," or "go join the Republican party," Mr. Johnson shows clearly that he does not intend to do anything about inflation unless the people convince him to do so by electing Republicans, Fish went on. The President made these remarks in an off-the-cuff telephone call from his Texas ranch, where he was celebrating his birthday anniversary, to the Western States Democratic conference in Glacier National Park, Montana.

"In his attempt to call inflation 'prosperity,' the President resorted to the most transparent statistical trickery," Fish charged.

"He used wage figures for the last six years and compared them with inflation figures. But the inflation is entirely a product of the last two years, the years he has served as an elected president with a subservient Congress," he went on.

LBJ vs Ike

Then he compared those inflation figures with the eight year figures of Eisenhower. Had prices risen during Eisenhower's eight years at the rate they have risen during Johnson's two, they would have risen not four per cent, but 20 per cent. Such "statistical trickery," Fish declared, "is unworthy of the office of president."

"Yet, that is not all," Fish said. "Eisenhower came in at a time of galloping inflation and slowed it to a halt. Prices remained stable until Johnson's first elected term. The Johnson inflation is a rising inflation.

"Even those who are fooled by Presidential statistics will find them cold comfort. Poor people's income has not risen 20 per cent. Retired persons' income has not risen 20 per cent. The farmers' net income is not up 20 per cent. To such people, the Johnson statement means simply that the Democrats don't care about inflation."

Lindbloom, Peace Candidate States Viet Nam Policy

Eric Lindbloom, independent peace candidate for Congress in the 28th District, taking issue with recent statements by his Republican opponent, Hamilton Fish Jr., stated, "I find it incredible that Hamilton Fish would, at this late date in the campaign, have any difficulty understanding my position on ending the war in Viet Nam." Fish had called upon Lindbloom and Congressman Joseph Y. Resnick (D-28th Dist.) "to offer some concrete proposals for peace in Viet Nam."

"From the start of my campaign," Lindbloom declared, "I have made plain my belief that the war in Viet Nam can only be ended through de-escalation and a negotiated settlement among all the parties to the conflict. The concrete proposals I have repeatedly advanced are: stopping further escalation, stopping the bombing of both North and South Viet Nam and all offensive military activity, permitting the Viet Cong a direct role in peace negotiations, calling for an immediate cease fire to be supervised by neutral nations or the U. N., and stating our willingness to withdraw our troops and dismantle our military bases once a truce is achieved."

Lindbloom characterized Fish's endorsement of the GOP-backed All-Asian Peace Conference as "a campaign gimmick designed to camouflage the Republican hawk dove's feathers."

"On the surface, the All-Asian Peace Conference suonds good," Lindbloom remarked. "But, is it workable? Is it really going to bring about a peace settlement? The Republican Congressional leader, Senator Everett Dirksen said a few days ago that if the recommendations of such a conference were inimical to what the U. S. regards as its 'interests' in Asia, we wouldn't feel bound to honor them. Furthermore, the conference has been spearheaded by countries such as Thailand, South Korea and the Phillipines which are considered virtual client states of the U. S. It is not surprising then that the Communist Asian nations consider the conference a hoax and have refused to participate."

Lindbloom disclosed that he had challenged Fish to a comprehensive public debate on U. S. Policy in Viet Nam, along the lines of his recent debate with Congressman Resnick, but that Mr. Fish had refused. "I hope he will reconsider," Lindbloom said. "I think he owes the people of this district a comprehensive evaluation of the Viet Nam issue."

A DANCE with a schoolmate may have launched Pia Dagermark on a film career. A picture of Pia taking a turn on the dance floor at a graduation party turned up in the newspapers because her partner happened to be Sweden's Crown Prince Carl Gustav. It was seen by, among others, Swedish director Bo Widerberg. He has signed the 17-year-old, who had never acted in her life, for the lead in a love tragedy he's filming.

House Votes Cabinet For Transportation

WASHINGTON (AP) — The administration's proposal to create a Cabinet-level department of transportation has passed the House and appears likely to win Senate approval later this year.

The House passed the measure by a 336-42 vote late Tuesday after handing the administration a setback by voting 260-117 to remove the Maritime Administration from the new department.

Sen. Henry M. Jackson, D-Wash., second-ranking member of the Senate Government Operations Committee, said later he expected his group to approve its version of the bill sometime after Labor Day.

Although consideration by the full Senate will be delayed by an expected lengthy civil rights debate scheduled to start Sept. 6, Jackson said he anticipates Senate approval before the congressional session ends.

Perky Posture

There are some things kids simply aren't learning in school. Slumped positions over desks and overly burdened school bags produce bad posture. While this type of instruction is not in the realm of the teacher, brainwashing at home could improve the matter.

Most Shot-Down Pilot Returns With Decorations

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP) — "Went for unscheduled swim. All A-OK. Your son, Rick."

That was how Lt. (j.g.) Robert F. (Rick) Adams wired his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Allan W. Adams of suburban Edina, that he'd been shot down over North Viet Nam the first time.

When he plunged into the Gulf of Tonkin last Oct. 5, Adams, 25, became the first pilot to survive a direct hit to his plane by a Soviet-built surface-to-air missile.

The second time he was shot down, the Navy pilot was flying fighter support for a mission during raids on oil storage depots in the Hanoi-Haiphong area on July 12. A helicopter rescued him.

"I'm famous for being the most shot-down pilot in the war," said Adams, his face smeared with his mother's lipstick after he arrived in Minneapolis Tuesday.

"All the wrong kind of firsts."

Apparently the Navy did not agree. The pilot was awarded the Purple Heart for wounds suffered in the first bail-out, and later received the Distinguished Flying Cross.

When hit the second time, by ground fire, Adams said, "I was burning pretty good." His F8 Crusader was "a big ball of flames. I had lost control of it but was headed in the right direction."

Adams bailed out just before the plane crashed. He landed in a tree on a mountainside. But he "dropped everything and started running" up the mountain to get away from a village. A U.S. aircraft picked up the signals from his survival radio and Adams was rescued by a helicopter.

After visiting his parents, Adams will be stationed at the Pensacola, Fla., Naval Base, where he will tell young recruits what to expect in Viet Nam.

Following two tours in Viet Nam — for eight and four months — Adams said he found no morale problems.

There are more than 181,000 gas service stations in the U. S.

Rush Air-Conditioning

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Navy is speeding thousands of air-conditioning units to Viet Nam on an emergency basis for installation aboard heat-wracked ships, it was learned today.

In response to questions, the Navy said the crash effort involves approximately 4,200 units ranging in size from 3 to 7½ tons of cooling capacity.

About 1,600 self-contained air-conditioners already have been delivered, and 2,600 more will be sent to Southeast Asia beginning next month, the Navy said.

Its explanation: The intense heat and humidity in that region hamper the performance of both men and equipment aboard ships.

Arrest Two Negroes In Queens Firebombing

NEW YORK (AP) — Two teen-agers were accused of firebombing a supermarket Tuesday night, apparently in revenge for the arrest Monday of another youth for attempted burglary of the same store, police said. The blaze caused by the bomb gutted the store.

When a 19-year-old was picked up on the attempted burglary charge near Vet's Supermarket in St. Albans, Queens, someone in a crowd yelled, "if you don't give him up this store will be fire-bombed," police said.

The supermarket, operated by whites, is in a predominantly Negro neighborhood.

Police said the store has been burglarized about 10 times in the past month.

Charged with arson were James Gambrell, 18, and Ralph McCain, 16, a student. Both are Negroes and live in St. Albans.

A&P

where would we be without them?

We wouldn't be America's largest food retailer.

That's for sure.

We're talking about the clerks who still manage a smile and a "Thank You" late Saturday afternoon after a busy week's work— and even on days when they aren't feeling tip-top.

We're talking about our supervisors, store managers, department heads and their assistants who shape the backbone of A&P.

Those behind the scenes, too— literally scores of thousands of devoted employees in our offices, warehouses, and other facilities.

Without all these fine people, there wouldn't be an A&P—and we know it.

They work hard...we're proud of them. Like most of us, most of them will rest too...on Labor Day.

Dear Abby . . .

More to Marriage Than Just Love

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Please don't think I am money-minded when I probably should have only "love" on my mind, but I have a question to ask. I am engaged to be married in December, and my fiance and I have never talked about money. I know he has a good job, but I don't know how much he makes. I don't even know if he carries any insurance other than what he has on his car.

I work, and intend to work a while after I'm married, but I don't know if I should plan on supporting myself or not. Should we have a joint checking and savings account? Would it be wrong of me to bring up thse things before we are married?

DECEMBER BRIDE

DEAR BRIDE: It would be wrong NOT to! Every couple should work out a budget together before marriage and decide how much to spend on rent, entertainment, insurance, clothing, and even daily allowances. And don't forget to anticipate vacations, illnesses, and accidents. (All kinds!)

DEAR ABBY: I have always heard that a seven months baby would not have any eyebrows or fingernails.

Well, our dear little neighbor girl was married barely seven months and she had this beautiful child with long fingernails and plenty of eyebrows. Everybody in town is talking, and the girl's mother really thinks it is a seven months baby.

This girl finished college and had a lovely white wedding. Please put your answer in the paper.

WANTS TO KNOW

DEAR WANTS: You are off base a country mile and several months. Seven month babies DO have fingernails and eyebrows. And now, what's YOUR problem, lady?

DEAR ABBY: YOU disappointed me when you didn't give three cheers for the terrible-tempered Angelo. (His wife wrote that after trying to get his home telephone for two solid hours, he found it busy, so Angelo drove home, to find his teen-age daughter still talking, so he tore the phone out by the roots!)

If she had been MY daughter, I'd have probably done the same thing, in addition to taking away her telephone privileges for two months.

His wife said Angelo saw his son's bicycle in driveway, so he just drove over it to teach him a lesson. (You can be sure the boy had been told more than once not to leave his bicycle in the driveway.)

What we need is more Angelos and fewer Casper Milquetoasts who let their kids get away with murder. I would like to give Angelo my congratulations. His children will grow up learning to respect the rights of others and knowing if they don't take care of their things they don't deserve to have them.

New Post Office Planned in Area, Bids Are Sought

The Post Office Department is seeking competitive bids to either build or lease a new buliding for the Shandaken, New York Post Office or lease a suitable existing building, to house its postal operations, Postmaster General Lawrence F. O'Brien announced.

The purpose of competitive bidding, the Postmaster General said, is to encourage the most attractive and economical offer to the Government in line with President Johnson's economy program to achieve the best possible postal service at the least possible cost.

Under the Department's Lease Program, a contract will be awarded to the bidder who designates a building suitable to the Department's needs and agrees to improve it, or provide a new building, according to departmental specifications and then lease it to the Department for a basic period of ten years with four separate and consecutive five-year renewal options.

The Department's capital investment will be limited substantially to postal equipment. The building will remain under private ownership, with the owner paying local real estate taxes.

Bidding documents are now available and may be obtained from Richard C. Jones, regional Real Estate Officer, PO Box 110, Federal Building, Room 220, Albany, N. Y. 12201. The real estate officer will supply bidding forms, specifications, lease provisions and other information. Bids must be submitted to the real estate officer by Sept. 23, 1966.

Cutback on Personnel

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon says the private construction combine building most U.S. military and civilian facilities in Viet Nam is in a position to cut back on unneeded personnel, machinery and supplies.

It made the announcement Monday after it was learned that the combine is cutting its big work force by 6,000 men to 45,000 by Oct. 1.

A Pentagon spokesman said the cutback results from increased capability of military construction units. The spokesman added that "no curtailment of this program is expected."

Jewish Youths Slate First Meeting Sept. 7

Martin Hammer, chairman of the Kingston Jewish Youth Commission, said today that first meeting of the year will be held on September 7th at 7 P. M., at the Jewish Community Center building, 96 Maiden Lane.

Plans for activities and social functions for the coming year will be discussed and all interested students, 9th to 12th Grade, are invited to attend. The Youth Commission is an organization sponsored by the various Jewish organizations in Kingston, whose aim is to provide athletic activities, dances and other social functions, both in Kingston and neighboring cities.

THE 21st CENTURY EXECUTIVE may be able to carry his office in an attache case. A portable electronic communications and computing center, this model contains a television screen, collapsible television camera and tripod, light pencil, information storage file, keyboard and telephone. It would weigh some 30 pounds fully wired. Shown at the New York luggage show, it was developed for a film, "2001: A Space Odyssey," but could be in normal commercial production within 15 years if demand developed.

Social Security Office Open Late on Fridays

The Kingston Social Security District Office, 57 Albany Avenue, is open to the public every Friday night until 9:00 o'clock, George J. Habernig, district manager, stated today. The additional evening hours have been made available for the convenience of those workers and members of their families who cannot visit the office during the regular hours of 9 a. m. to 5:00 p. m. Monday through Friday.

Hebernig pointed out that since the start of Medicare it is very important that those nearing age 65 enroll in the Medicare Program during one of the three months before the month they reach age 65. This is also true even if the person is still working and expects to continue.

Habernig also stated that evidence of age is needed in all cases and it is a good idea to bring a birth or baptismal certificate when visiting the district office to enroll.

Truman, FDR Give Lesson On Getting Along With Solons

By JAMES MARLOW
AP News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former President Harry S. Truman's troubles with Congress—and those of President Franklin D. Roosevelt before him—were a lesson for chief executives who followed him.

The lesson was simple: Try to avoid public brawls with the men in the Capitol.

Couldn't Help Learning

The three next presidents—Dwight D. Eisenhower, John F. Kennedy and Lyndon B. Johnson—couldn't help learning from the lesson. But their political instincts apparently were different anyway.

Instead of the head-banging that Truman went through, all three tried to get along with Congress in public, at least, even when frustrated and no matter how they felt privately.

But then none of them ever had to endure what Truman encountered. He had the opposition party—in his case, the Republicans—on his back almost from the start of his presidency.

And some of the Republicans, like Sens. Joseph R. McCarthy and Robert A. Taft—baited and attacked him endlessly. Truman let them push him into shouting matches.

No One Around

During Eisenhower's time there was no one around in either party—except for the fading McCarthy—who tried to take on this immensely popular national hero.

Eisenhower always acted like a man above the fray, avoiding all personal embroilments.

It paid off for him with the public which twice elected him overwhelmingly while giving the Democrats, not his Republicans, control of Congress for six of his eight White House years.

One of the best breaks Eisenhower got was to have Johnson run the Senate as leader of the Democrats. Johnson, perhaps the best Senate leader in history, not only didn't try to frustate Eisenhower but cooperated with him.

Was Disappointed

Kennedy ran into disappointments with Congress, even though his own Democrats were running the show. But he played it cool and charming all the way through and built up his own popularity enormously.

He could hope his party would win so overwhelmingly in 1964—when he'd run for a second term—that then he could get what he wanted from Congress. He was assassinated before he had a chance to see his hopes come true.

But, as it turned out, when Johnson won in 1964, so did the Democrats by such a huge margin that they not only kept control of Congress but outnumbered the Republicans there by better than 2 to 1 in the House and Senate.

In 1965, his first elected year, Johnson got such tremendous cooperation from Congress that its record of major legislation passed was probably the best in any one congressional year in history.

Honeymoon Chilled

The honeymoon chilled a bit this year but Johnson kept his frustrations pretty well concealed, which can be taken as a deliberate political technique.

He has worked at being a kind of daddy for a happy Democratic family, which should be no handicap in November's congressional elections for, while the Democrats look fairly united, the Republicans don't.

Tuesday night the Council of Republican Organizations, representing 10 progressive groups, said the Republican moderates are without a leader and conceded the conservatives may control the party in the 1968 presidential election year.

In short, Republicans are divided and the Democrats, except perhaps for some scattered individuals, don't seem to be. No wonder Johnson plays it cool with Congress, no matter what the polls say about his persona popularity at this time.

Resigns From Post

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) —Mrs H. M. Rozendall of Schenectady, sister of Pennsylvania's Gov William Scranton, has resigned from the New York State commission preparing for the 1967 Constitutional Convention.

This was announced today when Senate Majority Leader Earl W. Brydges appointed Mrs. June Martin of nearby Latham to replace Mrs. Rozendall in the non-salaried post.

Brydges' office said Mrs. Rozendall withdrew because of a leg injury that "will require her to be inactive."

Mrs. Martin is director of the Office of Legislative Research. She had served previously as a state budget examiner and as a program assistant on the staff of Gov. Rockefeller.

At the age of 16, George Washington was an expert surveyor.

Rolison Lauds Paltz Natural Beauty Meeting

Jay P. Rolison Jr., Republican candidate for state senator in the Ulster-Dutchess District, today lauded a Conference on Natural Beauty slated for Saturday, Sept. 17, at the State University College at New Paltz.

"I feel the conference will be highly successful," said Rolison, "and will provide valuable information on what can be done to preserve the vital natural beauty in the Hudson Valley."

The conference is being jointly sponsored by the college and the Ulster County Planning Board.

"The sponsors are to be commended for calling such a conference," said Rolison. "For years and years, the Hudson Valley's natural beauty was something everyone took for granted. That was a mistake right there. As we've seen in recent years, encroachments on the region's natural beauty are possible. Consequently, something has to be done to preserve the natural beauty.

Rolison called the scenic Hudson Valley one of the most beautiful places in the whole nation.

"There isn't a visitor coming to the Hudson Valley who isn't impressed, including the President," Rolison said. "But steps have to be taken now to insure this natural beauty won't be marred by the wide scale development now under way in the valley."

Rolison said he is pleased Lelan F. Sillin Jr., chairman of the Mid-Hudson Pattern for Progress, and C. David Loeks, newly named Pattern for Progress president, have been invited to the conference.

"Pattern for Progress is going to play a vital role in the Hudson Valley," said Rolison, "and I'm sure there's a lot it can do to help guard against encroachments of our natural beauty."

CHANNEL CHATTER

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV-Radio Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — When it was announced that Herbert Brodkin, who had produced the esteemed "Defenders" would take on a horse opera called "Shane," it occasioned a flurry of incredulous comment.

All Type-Cast

It is not only performers who get type-cast here, but producers, directors and writers as well. Brodkin's reputation was built on "Easterns"—New York-made shows about professional men in Brooks Brothers suits who drink scotch and soda. It was almost unbelievable that he would try to shift over to the "they went that-away" side.

The truth is, however, that most of them don't try. David Dortort, producer of "Bonanza," is currently developing a new property for next year. It is another Western, and where the Cartwright family of "Bonanza" get along happily together, the father and son in the upcoming one don't hit it off so well.

TV practitioners like Carl Reiner and Nat Hiken started in comedy—and stay in comedy. Ivan Tors, of "Flipper" and "Daktari," has a corner on animal series.

Converted to TV

A couple of seasons back a producer named Irwin Allen converted a movie he had made into a TV series, "Voyage to the Bottom of the Sea"—a fantasy about a supersubmarine that soon goes into its third season. Last year he followed with "Lost in Space," which also went well and gave Allen his special niche as TV's science fiction expert.

Allen this season is turning to the calendar as the source of new adventures. The series, on ABC, is called "Time Tunnel," and, among all the new shows, appears to be the only real novelty.

Tells Premise

Allen's premise is that a group of scientists have created an electronic tunnel in which it is possible to move forward and backward in time. The magic machine is not quite foolproof, so when the first show is broadcast a week from Friday, we will find two intrepid scientists deposited on the liner Titanic as it moves majestically to a fate they already know.

No one, of course, can predict how a series will look on the small screens or be received by the public. But "Time Tunnel," at least, has a different approach.

Button Bulletin

Buttons are a rather one-sided affair this season. They underscore precise seaming and crisp shape in dresses, coats and suits.

Firemens Home Appraisal Set At $1,463,700

Appraisal of the New York State Volunteer Firemen's Home in Hudson has been completed and it is expected the Home will be placed on the city tax rolls as of January 1, 1967.

The reported appraisal figure is $1,463,700. The City of Hudson operates on a 50 per cent assessment which would bring the taxable figure to $731,850. There is an authorized $20,000 exemption bringing the taxable remainder to $711,850.

The city tax rate is $32.22 which would bring in an estimated annual revenue of about $23,000 in taxes.

Appraisal of the Home which houses retired volunteer firemen of the state, was made by a professional realtor hired by the Hudson Common Council.

Placing the Home on the Hudson tax roll has been opposed by numerous volunteer firemen's organizations. The move to put the Home on the tax roll was advocated some time ago as a means of securing additional revenues for the city.

Woodstock News

Petition Signers Challenge Removal of Green's Benches

Woodstockers were up-in-arms again this week; standing in line to sign petitions aimed at getting the local Town Board to immediately return a number of wooden and concrete benches to the Village Green. The petitions were being circulated by several individuals, and at least two business establishments located in the area borderir the Green were pushing the petitions across their counters. At last count, the list of signatures was growing rapidly.

For several years, the town has maintained more than half a dozen green-and-white benches on the Green where residents and visitors alike may rest and watch the passing parade. On Aug. 15, according to eye witnesses, two trucks pulled up at the Green, loaded all benches aboard and, with 20 minutes, disappeared from the scene. A slight hullabaloo greeted their disappearance at the time since the date of removal was the same as the date that Woodstock's two new town ordinances, governing public drinking, noise and loitering became effective. There were some who viewed the disappearance of the benches as an attempt by the town fathers to keep a "beatnik element" off the Green, since the new ordinances forbade use of the area except on the benches and further banned the use of even the benches between the hours of 11 p. m. and 7 a. m.

West Defends Action

Although several people spoke out against the bad timing of the removal of the benches at the August Town Board meeting, which was held the following evening, Supervisor William R. West Jr., defended the action. He said the outdoor seats had simply been in need of repair and had been taken to the town garage in Bearsville for painting and the insertion of cross braces where several had been split.

Most people accepted the explanation at the time although some still felt that the town fathers were more interested in clearing the town's center of undesirable summer visitors and local teenagers than they were in making repairs to avoid possible accidents from disintegrating benches and resultant lawsuits.

Had the benches not been removed at the height of the summer season and had they not disappeared at almost the precise time the ordinances went into effect, their absence would probably have stirred little interest. But even those who felt repairs could more properly have been made during the winter months were ready to forgive and forget until day after day dragged by and the benches had still not made their reappearance.

Those who are signing the petitions urging their immediate return say the benches have been missing far too long; that repairs could not possibly take more than two weeks; and that their absence works a hardship on elderly persons waiting for buses to and from Kingston and New York, among other things. Others point out that mothers and children often used the benches, senior citizens are seen there regularly and men and women of all ages find they offer the comforts of the family armchair for reading morning and afternoon newspapers.

Said one man who had just taken pen in hand to protest via the petition, "What it all boils down to is that they've gotten far too upset over this so-called beatnik element. If we've got 22 of that type around this summer, we've got a lot. Woodstock's going to have to face up to the post-World War II baby boom just like every place else in the world. Those benches are used by all age groups and, if there are more younger people around now than ever before, that's the way it's going to be for many years to come—and we'd just better start getting used to it and accepting it."

Albany Institute Sets Exhibition Of Speicher Work

Albany Institute of History and Art has just issued its 1966-67 season folder, listing the various exhibitions and special members programs. Among the winter season's group of eight one-man shows at the institute will be one in January which will exhibit paintings by Eugene Speicher.

A lon-time resident of Woodstock before his death several years ago, Speicher had long been considred one of the country's foremost artists. He painted portraits of some of America's most prominent personalities and won many major awards.

A large group of paintings, executed over the course of his career, will be exhibited in the Speicher show in Albany.

Minister Gives Reasons Lottery Is Being Opposed

The Rev. Norman C. Krapf, of Christ's Lutheran Church, Woodstock, has released the following statement, which he feels will be of interest to many readers of this column. The statement concerns the opposition of the Lutheran Church Board to the proposed New York State lottery:

The Board of Social Ministry of the New York Snyod of the Lutheran Church in America, whose concern includes social issues, has voted to oppose the proposed State Lottery Amendment which will appear on the ballot this November. This action aligns the Board with the New York State Council of Churches which also opposed to the proposed lottery. A committee, The Committee of 100,000 Citizens Against the Lottery Amendment, has been formed to actively oppose this measure. The Honorable James A. Farley, former Postmaster of the United States and The Honorable Frank C. Moore, former Lieutenant Governor and former Comptroller of New York are co-chairmen of this committee.

In a recent brochure, the Committee listed its reasons for its position. They include the following:

Lotteries: 1) are the wrong way to finance government; 2) exploit the poor; 3) divert money from legitimate commerce; 4) increase the cost of welfare and police protection; 5) breed crime and violence; 6) stimulate gambling both legal and illegal; 7) lead to social demoralization; and 8) are susceptible to fraud. The Committee further believes that "the state program is vague and ambiguous—a blank check that could bounce back on the voters. Before being asked to approve such a program, voters should be told what type of lottery it will be, who will administer it, who controls it, how ticket sellers will be chosen, where tickets will be sold and other salient details."

The Rev. Theodore L. Conklin, Associate General Secretary of the New York State Council of Churches, announced in a recent letter that the "chief attack of the State Council is in support of the Committee Of 100,000 Citizens Against The Lottery Amendment." Funds are needed for this effort and contributions may be sent to: The New York State Council of Churches, 600 West Genesee Street, Syracuse, N. Y. 13204.

Exclusive Items Will Be Offered At Antique Show

Colony Arts Center's largest antiques show in recent years will open there on Rock City Road this coming Friday, Saturday and Sunday, Sept. 2, 3 and 4.

Homemakers, as well as collectors and antiques show-goers will be attracted by the extensive variety of really usable antiques. Antique jewelry, for example, is probably the most popular of all antiques collectables, and there will be three or four new dealers who have not previously shown in this area with attractive selections in popular price ranges.

An outstanding feature of this Woodstock show is always the exclusive showing of lithographs, prints, maps, photographs and commemorative material relat to Ulster County, the Catskills and Hudson River country from New York to Albany exhibited by the Colony Gallery during the show.

Dealers from out-of-town will show china, glass, bric-a-brac, primitives, furniture, mirrors, decorator's specialties, hobby items, art glass and coins in which they specialize.

Collector's Choice — a large free print—will be given to every ticket purchaser at the Woodstock show. Prints offered were designed about 90 years ago. One subject is the steamboat Mary Powell entering the Hudson Highlands. Another is of the Catskill Mountain House.

Items relating to the old mountain houses in the Catskills, transportation, the Hudson River and railroads have become extremely scarce in recent years, but many can be seen and purchased in this show.

Postmasters Set Horse Show Here

Woodstock has been chosen as the site of a horse show to be held under the auspices of the Ulster County Postmasters' Association. In announcing the Sunday, Oct. 9, event, Postmasters' Association president Mabel Weidner, of West Shokan, said the show will take place at the Woodstock Riding Club's Ohayo Mountain riding ring.

The local club has leased its scenically located ring to the Association for the occasion.

Other officers of the Association involved in organizing the show are: Vice-president Nate Raskin of Ellenville, Treasurer Edna Beach of Cottekill and Secretary Elizabeth Eagan of Hurley.

Tickets to the show as well as prize lists will be available at all 65 post offices in Ulster County. Further details of the event will be released shortly.

Gardner Gallery Features Steffen

Heralding the rapid approach of autumn, colorist Bernard Steffen of Woodstock is showing one of his newest paintings, Against the Autumn Sky, at the Gardner Gallery here. So moved by the foliage of fall is the artist that he has caused his colors to move into space without limitations, says gallery owner, B. Sturtevant Gardner.

She adds that those who recall rhythmic movements that emanated from the color organ at the Museum of Modern Art, an organ which projected color vibrations instead of emitting sound vibrations, will have special appreciation for this work by Steffen. The artist has used his colors to create arrangements of interest even greater than those color compositions seen at the museum. The very texture seems to be the texture of light and air.

The painting now on display is a foretaste of future work by Bernard Steffen, a prolific painter who has filled his large studio with many canvasses of great variety but with the single purpose of making color move.

The Gardner Gallery is located on Mead's Mountain Road just above the Glasco Turnpike-Rock City Road intersection. Gallery hours are 1 to 5 p. m. daily.

Christian Science Theme to Be Man

God's use of man as His witness will be a major theme of the Bible lesson on "Man" at Christian Science church services this Sunday.

The Golden Text is from Job —"God exalteth by his power: . . . Remember that thou magnify his work, which men behold."

Passages to be read from the denominational textbook will include these lines: "God will heal the sick through man, whenever man is governed by God. . . .The highest earithy representatives of God, speaking of human ability to reflect divine power, prophetically said to his disciples, speaking not for their day only but for all time: 'He that believeth on me, the works that I do shall he do also;' and 'These signs shall follow them that believe' " ('Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy).

Sunday services in Woodstock are held at 11 a. m.

Lutheran Church Sets 5 Courses As School Opens

The Church School of Christ's Lutheran Church of Woodstock will open Sunday, Sept. 11 at 9:30 a. m. Courses will be offered for age groups from three years old to adults. Students in kindergarten, first, second, ninth, high school and adult classes will be using new materials for the first time.

The kindergarten course, Children of a Loving God, is planned to help each pupil practice Christian ways of living and become more aware of God's love. We Want to Know is the title of the course for grades one and two. Its objective is to help the student grow in his understanding of God and his response to him. Ninth graders will study forces which hinder the Christian life in the first term The second term of their course, Challenge and Witness will help to gain a better understanding of the church in terms of its challenge and outreach.

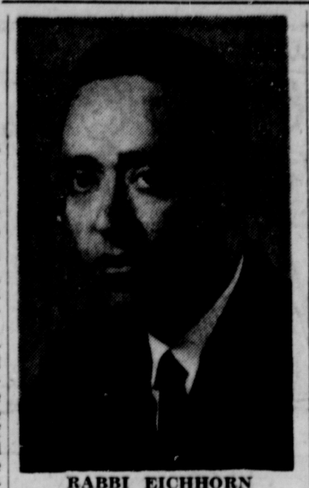

The high school class, grades 10 through 12, will study Life's Mystery and Meaning. The purpose of this course is an examination of some of the questions about God and life which are disturbing this age group. Object of the adult course, Belonging to the People of God, is to help adults develop a mature profession of faith in Christ as Lord and Saviour. A cordial welcome is extended to all to take advantage of a fine opportunity for Christian education.

This Sunday, the congregation will bid farewell to Donald Reinhard of Saugerties, church organist. He will be leaving next week for Hope College, Holland Mich., where he is enrolled as a freshman.

Stolen Express Checks Turn Up in Columbia

Most of those passed in Columbia County are for $50. The figures have been either written in long hand or typed. On a bonafide check

Child, 6, Dies in Crash

TICONDEROGA, N. Y. (AP) — Mary E. Olsen, 6, of East Hampton, Conn., was killed and five members of her family were injured Tuesday in a two-car crash at routes 9N and 73 near here.

State Police said Mary was riding in an automobile driven by her father, Walter A. Olsen Jr., 35. Mary's mother and four other Olsen children were admitted to Moses Ludington Hospital here, where they were reported in satisfactory condition.

The other driver was not injured.

See GOP Moderates Increasing Strength

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two GOP senators expressed confidence today that Republican moderates will increase their party strength as a result of the November elections.

Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., and Thomas H. Kuchel, R-Calif., said in separate interviews they do not believe the outlook is quite as gloomy as it was painted in a report of the Council of Republican Organizations.

The CRO, representing 10 progressive organizations, said Tuesday night that with things going as they are Barry Goldwater might be right in predicting that party conservatives will control the 1968 GOP convention, just as they did in 1964.

The CRO said that moderates are leaderless, lack financing and are being silenced by party "unity" efforts on the part of National Chairman Ray C. Bliss and Richard M. Nixon, the 1960 GOP presidential nominee who may try again.

Powell Proposes $95-Billion Campaign

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Adam Clayton Powell proposed today a $95-billion, 10-year campaign "to raise black Americans" to full equality — and said there is no room in his plan for Sargent Shriver, antipoverty program director.

Powell suggested that a man like Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara or Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz be put in charge of an economic equality drive linking the war on poverty, manpower retraining and economic development.

The Negro congressman said Shriver should resign as head of the Office of Economic Opportunity, perhaps to become undersecretary of state. Shriver said through a spokesman two days ago he does not intend to resign.

Why We Say--

WITHOUT WAX: Most of us are unaware of it, but when we say someone is sincere, we mean "without wax." In ancient Rome dishonest building contractors sometimes used inferior materials in their work. When cracks in pillars developed, they were filled with wax. But one without cracks was said to be sincere . . . free from wax.

DO YOU REMEMBER

By Sophie Miller

I have a bound copy of the Kingston Weekly Freeman for 1901. In the Thursday, March 7th, 1901 issue, John H. Gray, of 521-523 Broadway, Kingston, N. Y. had a full page. He was successor to the Kingston Carriage Company. They had a "complete line of two-seat wagons, three springs or platform. They also had business wagons, "low down milk wagons, baker wagons, top grocery wagons and open grocery wagons." They mention "Mountain Wagons, built special to order, curtained top, hung low, stiff or drop pole brake." Their buckboards were from $60 and up, and they had one seat, two seat or three seat buckboards. Their road wagons with up-to-date improvements were $30 and up. You could buy from Gray's, fur and plush robes, and fancy whips. They made dump carts to order.

John H. Gray also had the famous Surreys, with extension top and canopy top. Depot wagons, Victorias, Cabriolets, Stanhopes, Goddards and traps. The famous Milburn Farm Wagons with hollow axle and thimble skein. The Oswego, all size axle and tire, either Hollow Axle or Thimble Skein. Buggies were also sold by them, all kinds and styles with steel tires or rubber tires. They added the latest trimmings and up-to-date improvements. I take it, one could design his own fancy wagon, buggy or surrey and John H. Gray would make it up.

The above page advertisement of 1901 in the Kingston paper proved that there was a commercial and social life around here to sell these various styles of horse transportation. Those were the days before one could lock the truck or wagon and seldom if ever anyone dared to touch anything. It is said the "Surry With a Fringe on Top" was lightweight and not enough protection from the elements, but some had side-curtains.

In the Kingston City Directory of 1872 I notice there are a number of carriage manufacturers. There was DuBois and Walker at St. James Street near Union Avenue. (Union Avenue is now Broadway.) A. J. Perrine was at Washington Avenue near Depot. Shader Bros. were at St. James Street near the railroad. Snyder and Styles were at Union Avenue near St. James Street. John W. Mayer was at Mill Street near Hasbrouck Avenue. John Winfield was at Washington Avenue below Hurley Avenue.

Tom Walsh, of the Boulevard, collector of Kingston, Ulster County and Hudson River items gave me this 1872 Kingston Directory sometime ago and I run through the information very often. I see James Dolan was a dock builder at Cedar near Mill Street, Michael Dolan was a shoemaker and lived opposite Fitch's stone yard. The Ulster County Atlas of 1875 has a large lithograph of the Fitch stone yard. Leonard Dittus was proprietor of the National Hall on Abeel Street below Wurts Street, John Doarn was a stone measurer in Wilbur and lived on Mill Street. I notice so many are listed on Mill Street, yet it is a very short street, going from Broadway to Hasbrouck Avenue.

William Desmond was a stonecutter back in 1872 in Kingston. Mrs. Anna L. Dendney was a milliner in the Hirsch's Building, at Garden Street and lived in Ponckhockie. Lewis Depuy had an ale brewery on Lucas Avenue corner Bridge Street. Jeremiah Hurley lived on Hurley Avenue and was a stonecutter. There are some 200 pages in this book, which shows that Kingston and Rondout, especially, were enterprising and lively communities in 1872.

On-Job Projects

WASHINGTON (AP) — On-the-job training projects for 204 New York State residents were under way today with a total of $59,050 in federal funds for four projects.

The Labor Department announced the projects Tuesday, under terms of the Manpower Development and Training Act.

Such training is provided by private industry, with the federal government paying the instructors' fees and for instructional materials. The employers pay salaries.

The projects, number of trainees and federal funds for New York State announced Tuesday included:

— Steuben County Highway Department, Bath, 15, $10,007.

— Novelty Slipper Co., Port Jervis, 13, $2,968.

— Goulds Pumps Inc. Seneca Falls, 104, $28,556.

— Grant Pulley and Hardware Corp., West Nyack, 72, $17,519.

Caught by Troopers

Pursued by two Highland state troopers along Plains Road, New Paltz, early today, Richard Watson, 30, of Plattekill, was cited on a charge of failure to keep to the right and faces additional charges, according to Trooper J. F. Czaplicki. Troopers Brian O'Connor and Edward Pulver were on patrol when they reportedly saw a car driven by Watson leaving New Paltz at an alleged high rate of speed. The troopers turned around and pursued the Watson car until it slid along railroad tracks on Plains Road and came to a stop. The 1964 car driven by Watson was damaged, but he escaped injury, troopers reported.

Baby Falls From Car

A one-year-old boy was injured early today when he toppled from a moving vehicle as the door on the passenger side swung open on Lattintown Road, Town of Marlboro. State Trooper J. F. Czaplicki of Highland said Jimmy Neal Jr., was taken to St. Luke's Hospital, Newburgh, and treated for abrasions of the face, knees and arms. He was admitted for overnight observation. The boy was a passenger in a car driven by James Hilliard, 25, of Wallkill, traveling south on Lattintown Road when the mishap occurred.

Buchanan Wages War on Starlings

WASHINGTON (AP) — Persistence is a congressman with a 12-gauge shotgun shooting into his maple tree.

It's Rep. John H. Buchanan Jr., R-Ala., armed with birdshot for a foray on the patio. "We're going to get them this time!"

Buchanan has waged war on hundreds of starlings he says mess up his yard. He's tried shining lights in their faces, banging garbage can lids, yelling and noise makers.

"They pay no attention," he says. "But this time, it's me or them! My wife and children went to Birmingham to escape. They're coming home Monday.

"The birds will be gone by then or I'll know the reason why."

So Tuesday night, dressed in a business suit, armed with a friend's shotgun, 6-foot-4 Buchanan waited in his backyard at dusk for "the arrivals."

By dark, the trees were settled with screaming starlings. Buchanan — whose only hunting score to date has been one rabbit — fired into trees in the front yard and one in the backyard.

Birds fluttered aloft.

He bagged lots of leaves and one bird.

It's against the law to shoot firearms in the suburban Westmoreland, Md., area and police told him last week to stop. Buchanan then wrote 300 letters to neighbors outlining his battle plan and asked them not to squeal on him. Apparently they didn't. No police showed up.

Buchanan's battle is the latest in antistarling action around Washington. Tens of thousands of the birds live in the city in the winter, migrating to suburbia for summer.

"This summer," Buchanan vows," is the last one they're spending at my house — even if I have to cut down all my trees!"

Named Spelling Champ At State Exposition

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (AP)— Fourteen - year-old Deborah Green knows how to spell "toreador" and "pharynx" and, as a result, is the New York State Exposition spelling champ.

Deborah, of the western New York community of Le Roy, defeated Jean Forleo of Mattydale to win the championship and $125 Tuesday.

Jean mispelled toreador, while Deborah correctly spelled the word and then cinched the title with pharynx.

Cynthia Ruter of Norwich was third.

In other youth events at the state fair Tuesday, Haberling Central School of Bath won the Governor's Trophy and $400 in school band competition.

Hilton Central School was second, Aquinas Institute of Rochester was third and Holley Central School was fourth.

MONTREAL (AP) — The $500,000 New York State pavillion at the 1967 Montreal international exposition will consist of six steel and canvas towers, according to plans unveiled Tuesday.

The pavillion will illustrate the state's history, industrial development, communications, educational facilities, research programs and recreational facilities.

Gov. Rockefeller sent a message to the unveiling, saying the long history of co-operation between Canada and New York reflected "the hopes and dreams of Expo 67 that mankind will learn to live in freedom and peace."

The 125th exposition opened Tuesday and closes Labor Day.

Philharmonic Hears New Report on Grant

"To broaden the service to more people on a wider scale—that is one of the main benefits of the Ford Foundation grant to the Hudson Valley Philharmonic Society," said Dr. Raymond G. Kenyon at a recent meeting of the Orange County Council of the Hudson Valley Philharmonic. Dr. Kenyon is Development Director of the Hudson Valley Philharmonic Society, a newly created post.

In an informative and detailed account, he outlined the steps leading up to the Ford grant to the Philharmonic and pointed out the obligations it imposes upon the Society. While the outright gift of $75,000 over a five-year period relieves the Society of some current pressures, the $250,00 grant must be matched by the Society in five years. However, during the intervening five years, the Society is entitled to the interest on this amount giving them $10,000 a year additional revenue.

Dr. Kenyon pointed out that the Ford Foundation, donors of the grant had made an intensive study of orchestras over a three-year period. As a result of these surveys, the Foundation felt that financial aid was imperative so that the services of suburban orchestras in particular could be broadened to reach a greater segment of the public. They also felt that salaries of orchestra members should be increased and where possible orchestra members should be put on a yearly full-time salary. They also recommended that the budget be increased so that greater and wider activities would be possible. These purposes could only be realized, the Foundation felt, with additional monies.

Mrs. Jerome Kempler, In-School Concerts Chairman was especially pleased to learn of the possible extension of in-school concerts and she is formulating plans for extended activity in this field in line with the Foundation's recommendation. Alfred Nebling, vice president, told of the enormous success of the recent concert held in the auditorium of the Newburgh Free Academy and how practically every seat was filled by young people, who had been "briefed" by their classroom teachers on the music to be played.

Mrs. Eugene Cohan, president of the Orange County Council gave a condensed report on the financial condition of the orchestra and the proposed budget of $206,800 for the 1966-67 season. She announced a "kick-off" cocktail party September 11 at Crawford House in Newburgh which will inaugurate Philharmonic Week beginning September 12. Posters, publicity and advertising in the local press will tie-in with Philharmonic Week.

The opening concert of the season will be October 17 with Byron Janis pianist soloist with the full orchestra. Three concerts will follow—December 5, February 6, 1967 and April 3, 1967 when Erica Morini will be guest soloist with the Philharmonic. Season subscription tickets at $10.0 for orchestra seats and $7.50 for balcony are available now by writing to Hudson Valley Philharmonic, Box 2132 Newburgh, N. Y.

Toothbrush Tips

Have you gone shopping for a toothbrush lately? Since your teeth are a very important part of the over-all cosmetic picture, a toothbrush should be as important a purchase as your lipstick. Don't forget, those pearls must be attended to three times a day. The bristles must be tough enough to clean thoroughly and stimulate healthy gums.

Between August, 1860 and July, 1861, 1,041 inches of rain fell at Cherrapunji, India.

Health for All

Public health experts received a sharp reminder recently of the real dimensions of the problem involved in "eradicating" any disease. Among the once widespread scourges that has been substantially done away with in some Western Nations, smallpox is an outstanding example.

Yet, just a few months ago, a sudden outbreak of the disease in an English locality sent scores of people to sick beds and cost nearly $4 million in an emergency vaccination campaign.

The trouble is, of course, that a contagious disease can't be truly eradicated anywhere. This is truer than ever in a day of rapid and cheap transportation. The epidemic of smallpox in England is thought to have been caused by the arrival of a traveler from Africa or South America. One diseased person: that was all it needed.

Despite such difficulties, the World Health Organization has decided to launch a smallpox eradication program through which it hopes literally to wipe the disease from the face of the earth within 10 years. To accomplish this, every person in the world who is at any risk of contracting the disease — and that means most people — will have to be vaccinated. Vaccination programs will be conducted nation by nation. Because immunity gained by vaccination is far less than lifetime (medical estimates vary from three to ten years), whole populations will be vaccinated within three-year periods to make sure that everyone is immunized and nobody is a threat to his fellow men. This should eliminate the need for mass re-vaccinations.

If the plan succeeds, it will be the first complete elimination of any disease on a global scale. Who thinks it can be done. The organization certainly deserves cooperation in its efforts.

Glasses A Handicap? Hardly.

The big handicap lies in being unable to learn quickly and easily—in being unable to keep up with the class.

Properly fitted glasses remove that handicap. That's why we say: Take your child to the eye physician frequently. And don't forget to go back to the optician often. The Right Thing To Do

By Elizabeth L. Post

WHEN INTRODUCTIONS MUST BE MADE ARE YOU INCLINED TO PANIC?

Almost everyone panics occasionally when faced with making introductions. Husbands and wives have been known to forget their own spouses' names. If you know the proper form in advance, much of the nervousness disappears, and this quiz should help you the next time you are required to say, "I'd like you to meet . . ."

1. It is perfectly correct under ordinary circumstan s to introduce two people by simply saying their names, "Mrs. Roberts, Mr. Howard." True——— False———

2. There are no exceptions to the rule that a man is introduced to a woman. True——— False———

3. A woman introduces her husband to a friend as "Mr. Smith." True——— False———

4. Children of either sex are always introduced to an older man or woman. True——— False———

5. "Mary, Jim's wife" is preferable in introducing one's daughter-in-law than "Mary, my daughter-in-law." True——— False———

6. A husband introduces his wife to an old friend by saying, "John, I want you to meet the wife." True——— False———

7. The question form of introduction is correct: "Mrs. Robinson, have you met Mrs. Parker?" True——— False———

8. It is correct to introduce one person to another as "my friend, Mrs. Jones." True——— False———

Here are the answers:

1. True. When a man and a woman are introduced in this way, her name is said first.

2. False. There are three exceptions. An American woman is introduced to the President of the United States, to recognized heads of other countries, and to high church dignitaries.

3. False. A woman introduces her husband to good friends by his first name and to other acquaintances as "my husband." Only in business situations or to employes would she say "Mr. Smith."

4. True.

5. True. The second form is not actually incorrect, but "Jim's wife" sounds more affectionate.

6. False. "My wife" would be correct. "The wife" is always incorrect.

7. True.

8. False. If one uses "my friend" with one name only, it implies that the other person is not your friend.

Ursula Alumnae Fashion Show Is Set for Sept. 7

"The Setting Sun Style Show," sponsored by the Adumnae Association of St. Ursula's Academy, will be held on Wednesday, Sept. 7 at 8 p. m. in the high school auditorium.

An oriental motif has been planned by the decorating committee which includes Mrs. Joseph Thurin and Mrs. John Bentley, co-chairmen.

Other chairmen include Eileen Quick, tickets; Bernadette Olen and Bernice Keller, adult models; Pegi Iannone, children models; Ellen Madden, awards; Pat Fabysack and Karen Peacock, program; Marty Murphy, stage hand, Betty McManus and Marty Murphy, refreshments; Ellen Madden and Betty Engle, maintenance; Cathy Lawrence, transportation; Joan Ann Mahoney, music; Pegi Iannone, publicity.

The Setting Sun theme was chosen this year by the committee to denote the probability that this show will be the final fashion show to be presented by the St. Ursula Alumnae Association as such. In September of this year, the Academy of St. Ursula becomes the John A. Coleman High School. However, the Alumnaie Association of St. Ursula will not disband, but continue to be an active group of women engaged in aiding the mothers, teachers and students of the school.

The Alumnae is hoping to make this fashion show the biggest and most profitable one in history. Proceeds from the show will be donated to the Mothers for Linwood, the retreat house and nursery school at Rhinecliff.

Bernard Goldman will be fashion commentator for the event. Casual and dressy styles for children, teens and adults will be shown.

Child models include Cindy and Cathy Houghtaling, Laura Kinzelman, James Madden, Paul Iannone, Billy Mahoney, Joseph Koenig, Jean Houghtaling, Anne Marie Thurin, Kathy Baum, Mary Beth Swart, Mary Catherine Redmond, Katie Murphy.

Adult models will be Marguerite Flaherty, Mary Wallace, Jeannine Tully, Alice anahy, Laurie Thurin, Mathilda Davenport, Elizabeth Ann Cook, Joanne Drury, Theresa Hudela and Bernadette Olen.

A highlight of the evening will be the awarding of a New York City trip for two persons at the Americana Hotel for two nights and three days and a choice of dining and dancing at the Hawaiian Room or a Broadway show and choicce of tours which includes Chinatown at night, the NBC radio and TV stations, a boat ride around the Statue of Liberty.

Refreshments will be served by Marty Murphy and Betty McManus and their committee.

The public may attend. Tickets may be obtained from any member of the committee and will be available at the door.

Area Democrats Meet

The Rochester Democratic Club will hold its first meeting of the fall season Monday, Sept. 12 at the Accord Firehall.

Endorses Levitt

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) —The Altany Times - Union proposes bi - partisan political endorsement for State Comptroller Arthur Levitt, the only Democrat to hold a statewide elective post.

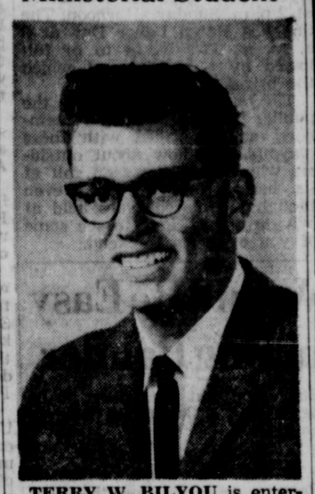

In an editorial appearing Wednesday morning, the paper said:

"The Republican Party has a unique opportunity to affirm the essentially non - political administration of Arthur Levitt. Its convention delegates next week can name him as their nominee too, for the position of state comptroller."

Levitt, who served three four-year terms, under Democratic-Liberal endorsement, "has come to epitomize fiscal integrity in our state government," the newspaper said.

Pick Colts To Succeed Green Bay

NEW YRK (AP) — There is a tendency to give Green Bay the Western Conference title in the National Football League by acclamation on the strength of (1), the victory over Cleveland last January, (2), the romp over the College All-Stars, and (3) the addition of Donny Anderson and Jim Grabowski.

However, there are caution signs flickering on the control board. The Packers had their troubles with the Chicago Bears and Dallas, although Vince Lombardi did experiment with rookies. The Packers scored a grand total of one touchdown in those two games and the offense was spotty.

Green Bay, Baltimore and Chicago could fit under a blanket in the West with San Francisco and Minnesota ready to step in if anybody stumbles. Los Angeles is shooting at the moon with a rebuilt defense and only Detroit appears out of it, despite its usual rugged defense.

Baltimore lost three straight to the Packers last year, twice in regular season and once in the overtime tie playoff. They meet for the first time this year on opening night, Saturday, Sept. 10 at Milwaukee, a game that could decide the championship.

Packers Loaded

The Packers are loaded, no question about that. Anderson and Grabowski, behind Paul Hornung and Jim Taylor, may prove an unbeatable combination. Still, you can't forget th way the defense had to bail out the Packers last fall.

The pick here is Baltimore with Johnny Unitas healthy again, backed by Gary Cuozzo. And let's not forget Tom Matte.

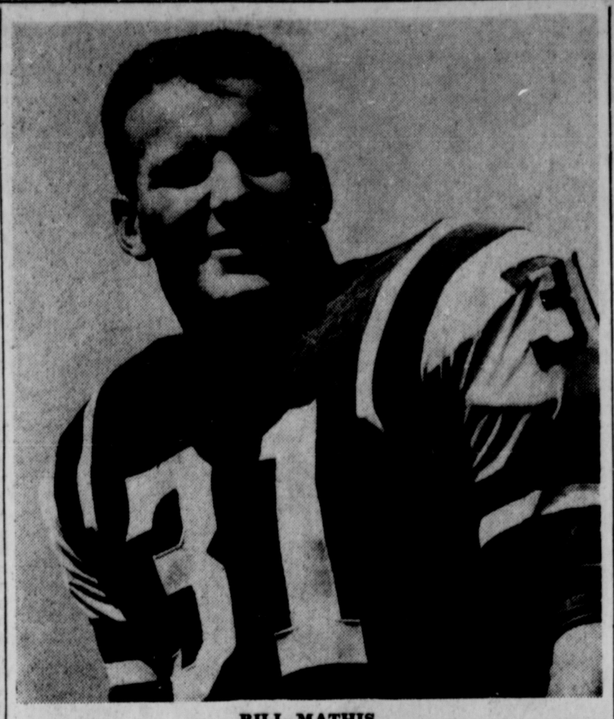

The Colts are tough on defense, a good match for the Packers with a strong pass rush, steady linebacking and a capable secondary.

Problems in the offensive line were partially solved by the return from retirement of Alex Sandusky, veteran guard and key pass blocker. If Sam Ball, the No. 1 draft from Kentucky, doesn't cut it at tackle, Jim Parker will do the job.

Actually, it comes down to Unitas over Bart Starr and the experienced receivers like Raymond Berry and Jimy Orr plus some capable rookies. Neither Jerry Hill nor Tony Lorick is a Jim Taylor at fullback but they do a capable job.

Here's the way the West looks from here:

1. Baltimore
2. Green Bay
3. Chicago
4. San Francisco
5. Minnesota
6. Los ngeles
7. Detroit

BILL MATHIS

Bill Mathis, Jets Halfback, At Kingston Plaza Saturday

Bill Mathis, star halfback of the New York Jets, will make a guest appearance in the Kingston Plaza Saturday as part of the Plaza's Sports-a-rama promotion.

Mathis will be in the Plaza from 10 a. m. to 8 p. m., will be available for autographs and will judge the kicking contest Saturday afternoon, Donald Wright, president of the Merchants Association, said.

The seventh leading ground gainer in the American Football League in 1965, the Jet MVP, Mathis is a graduate of Clemson University. He is 27 years old, 6 feet 1 inch and 220 pounds.

He finished seventh in the AFL in rushing with 604 yards on 147 carries for a 4.1 average. He set a club record for the longest run from scrimmage, 79 yards, against Houston. Mathis also enjoyed his best year as a receiver, catching 17 passes for 242 yards and one touchdown. He is one of three original members of the 1960 New York franchise, having come to New York in a trade with Houston prior to the 1960 opener.

In addition to the kicking contest, the Sports-a-rama will distribute many prizes, among them tickets for games of the Jets and New York Giants. Free ice cream will be served all day.

Willie Dusted

Franks, Hart, Mays Mad And Phils Suffer, 7-2

By RON RAPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer

Herman Franks is mad at a writer, Willie Mays is mad at a pitcher and the Phillies are mad at Jim Hart.

Hart busted up what had been a relatively close game between San Francisco and Philadelphia Tuesday night with a three-run homer in the eighth, sending the Giants to a 7-1 victory and keeping them tied with Pittsburgh for first place in the National League.

Giants Manager Franks, in the meantime, expressed his keen displeasure with a reporter who had written that Herman was making the club jittery. In fact, Franks refused to hold his post-game interview until the culprit had been banished from his presence.

Mays, however, was more than willing to talk about Phillie pitcher Rick Wise who decked Willie with a tight pitch early in the game.

"That stuff won't get you anywhere," Mays said. "If he had come up again, we would have brushed him. The pitchers know it. We take care of ourselves."

With Hart and Tito Fuentes providing the punch, the Giants took very good care of themselves indeed Tuesday. There was Hart's 30th homer, Fuentes' fourth, sparkling play in the field and tight pitching from Bob Bolin and Frank Linzy.

Pirates Rout Astros

Elsewhere in the National League, Pittsburgh downed Houston 8-2, New York crushed Los Angeles 10-4, Cincinnati took St. Louis 6-4 and Chicago beat Atlanta 5-3.

The Giants took a 3-1 lead into the eighth and only fine glove work by Fuentes, Bolin, McCovey and Mays kept the Phillies' total that low.

Willie Stargell's bases-loaded single drove in two runs in a five-run fourth inning for Pittsburgh as the Pirates kept pace with the Giants. Roberto Clemente drove in his 96th run of the season, a personal high. The defeat snapped Houston's win streak at six games.

The Dodgers fell two games off the lead as the Mets got to Sandy Koufax for five runs in the third inning. Koufax, now 22-8, walked three men in the second inning and forced in a run. Jerry Grote doubled in a pair for the Mets in the third.

Cincinnati extended its win streak to seven games as Pete Rose hit two home runs and Deron Johnson hit his third in two days and 20th of the season.

Ernie Banks provided the Cub muscle with a three-run homer in the third inning. Hank Aaron spoiled Ken Holtzman's shutout with a three-run homer in the seventh. It was his 36th of the season and pushed his RBI total to 102, marking the eighth season Aaron has driven in 100 or more runs.

NLL Pirates Tie Playoff Series

The National Little League championship playoff will go down to the three game limit. That was officially decided last night as the VFW Pirates beat the Shults Paint Mets, 5-3, to even their best-of-three series at a game each.

Two run innings in the second and third gave the Pirates their win. Mike Hargrove hurled a three-hitter to outpitch Al and Gil Williams.

The final game will be held Friday, 5:45 p. m. at Kingman Park.

Randall, Van Aken, Barthel Round Robin Golf Opponents

54-Hole Tourney Draws Three Aces

By CHARLES J. TIANO
(Freeman Sports Editor)

The size of golf audiences has shrunk almost to the vanishing point in the Kingston area. But the quality of championship tournaments remains at an all-time high.

The 5th annual Kingston Area Round Robin scheduled Sunday and Monday will again focus the spotlight on this golf contradiction.

There is a wealth of talent among the three participants—Leon Randall of Wiltwyck, Bill Van Aken of Woodstock and youthful Ricky Barthel of Twaalfskill. Between them Randall (23) and Van Aken (19) have won no less than 42 major area titles. And many lesser but important club events.

Barthel, who recently ended a long reign by George Hughes at Twaalfskill, has one Herdegen Memorial to his credit, equaling the amateur course record of 63 a Woodstock in the last round.

21 Club Titles

Randall and Van Aken each have won 9 club championships at Wiltwyck. Add three more for Van Aken when he played out of Wiltwyck before moving to Woodstock. The peerless Randall has five times won the Herdegen Memorial, losing another in a playoff to Buzzy Costello; five Kingston City playoffs (now defunct); and two Wiltwyck Invitationals. He also has a run of three straight going in the Stamford Invitational. At an earlier age, the Blond Bomber lost a semi-final match to Gene Littler in the National Junior in Texas.

Randall's course record of 63 at Wiltwyck was a devastating display of par busting that may last for many years to come.

To Van Aken's 12 club titles, you can add three Herdegen Memorials, one round robin in 1965; two Kingston City playoffs and one really big one — the Woodstock Open in 1961. Like Randall, he has taken a hatful of special club events.

Van Aken's Herdegen Memorial tournament record of 275 set in 1958 has not been seriously challenged in the ensuing years. He has played some of his finest golf this season at the ripe old age of 40 and had one streak of 17 consecutive "under 70" rounds at Woodstock.

Different Scoring

The Palm Beach round robin system is in reality a blend of 54 holes of medal and match play. Each hole is played as a separate entity, with scores cumulative on a plus or minus basis.

For example, on the first hole A gets 4, B 5 and C 6. At the end of the hole A would be plus 3, B would be even and C minus 3. Randall captured the 1962 opener with plus 26. Bostic was plus 32 in 1963 and Randall, plus 23 in 1964. Van Aken won it last year with plus 11. The discrepancy in the scores is that in 1965 the committee decided to allow only one point a hole. Thus in this year's tournament A 4, B 5, C 6 would make A plus 2, B even and C minus 2.

Over the years, Van Aken and Randall have supplied area golf fans with some tremendous heroics, particularly in match play. Van Aken's brilliant iron shot to the 54th hole last year climaxed the best of the tourneys to date. There is no "weak man" in the field this time around so it should be one of the finest.

Opens Sunday

The tournament opens Sunday morning at 9 o'clock at Wiltwyck, then goes to Woodstock at 2 p. m. Sunday afternoon. The finale is slated Labor Day at 9 a. m. at Twaalfskill to be followed by a luncheon at which the prizes will be awarded.

The tournament is open to the public. The regular club members may be jaded with these playoffs. But how about outsiders who have never seen golf at its best. You're invited even though the matches are held at private clubs. Hope to see some of you over the weekend.

Quitting Game Would Be Easy But Not For Slumping Palmer

By WILL GRIMSLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Less than two weeks ago, Arnold Palmer became so discouraged with his golf game, that he was tempted to chuck his clubs in the closet and forget it.

He had just shot a 77 — worst round in the tournament by anybody — in the final round of the Insurance City Open at Wethersfield, Conn. It was a dreadful, humiliating experience for a man who had dominated the sport for most of the past decade.

"It would have been easy to quit — the easiest thing in the world," Palmer recalled last weekend during the Philadelphia Golf Classic. "Doc over there knows how miserable I felt and how close I came to it."

He pointed to Doc Goffin, one of his personal managers, leaning casually against one of the lockers at the Whitemarsh Valley Country Club.

Braced Himself

"Then I braced myself," the bronzed, muscled professional continued. "I told myself 'into every life some rain must fall'. I said it would be foolish to run and hide just because of a little rain.

"All I need is some rest. I want to get the frame of mind back again. I'll be okay."

The old frame of mind — that fierce competitive drive and wave of supreme confidence — apparently is the key to the future of this greenskeeper's son who has amassed a fortune and become the idol of golf galleries throughout the world.

Is Palmer through? Has the flame died. And have the juices that once carried him to sensational victory after victory quit flowing?

Many observers contend so.

Arnie vigorously denies it.

Still, Palmer must live with the realization that he has scored only four tournament victories in the last two years, that he blew a seven-stroke lead in the last nine holes to Bill Casper in the National Open last June, and that he appears to be developing a last-round blow-up complex.

Two Double Bogeys

In the Philadelphia Classic, Palmer was tied for the lead going into the final round and then took two double bogeys on the outgoing nine to throw away his chances.

Is the blow-up in the Open at San Francisco a ghost that still lives with him?

"I've got to admit I still think about it," Palmer said. "One moment I seem to have my second Open, something I had pointed to and worked for since the Master's. More than that, it looked as if I was going to get Ben Hogan's record. Then — blewy — it was gone.

"You don't shake a thing like that very easily. But to say that it's something that will destroy my game, that's ridiculous.

"It's just a matter of getting the feeling back. I plan to take about a month off, rest and work on my game. I'm 36. I should have plenty of tournament golf left in my system.

"I think I can still win, and I will."

Yesterday's Stars

PITCHING — John Odom, Kansas City, allowed only one hit — Roger Maris' two-out double in the second inning — as the Athletics defeated the New York Yankess 4-1.

BATTING — Pete Rose, Cincinnati, collected two homers and a single and drove in three runs in the Red's 6-4 triumph over St. Louis.

Soccer Greats Due at Stadium; Milan vs. Brazil

NEW YORK—A soccer match months in the making will pit world champion Inter Milan of Italy against former world titleholder Santos of Brazil on Labor Day (Sept. 5) at Yankee Stadium.

The match is being sponsored by the Inter S.C. of New York, a member of the American Soccer League.

Inter Milan, which has just won its 10th national championship, also won the world club championship in 1964 and 1965. Santos were also world champions in 1962 and 1963.

The star-studded Inter lineup includes Giacinto Pacchetti, acknowledged the world's best fullback; two Brazilian stars in Luis (Vinicio) de Meneses and Jair Da Costa, who both played for Brazil in the recent World Cup tournament in England; Spain's international center forward Luis Miramontes Suarez, while Sandro Mazzola is the son of Italy's legendary star, Valentino.

Santos' lineup features the internationally-famous Pele, who thrilled Randalls Island Stadium audiences by his soccer exploits. Other World Cup stars in the Brazilian team's squad beside Pele include Gilmar, goalkeeper; Zito, center halfback, Mauro and Orlando, halfbacks; Abel, Lima and Dorval, forwards; while Edu, 17-years-old, and Pele's protege, was also chosen to play in World Cup play but did not see any action.

Tickets for the Inter Milan-Santos game are on sale at all New York Yankees ticket offices and also at the Sheraton Atlantic-Hotel lobby, Broadway and 34th St. in Manhattan.

Stolle Is Miffed By Singles Seeds

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (AP) — Australian Fred Stolle was grumbling about the seedings and Dennis Ralston was hinting about retirement today as they prepared for the opening round of the U.S. Lawn Tennis Association Championships Thursday.

But each of them may change their minds.

Stolle, the French champion this year and runner-up at Wimbledon a year ago, was not listed among the eight seeds and felt he had been overlooked.

"This is the first time I haven't been seeded in five years," Stolle grumbled. "I'm not in quite as bad a slump as some people think. I think I'm playing as well as ever. I've done pretty well in most tournaments this year."

He and Roy Emerson, the No. 2 seed behind defending champion Manuel Santana of Spain, just won the U.S. doubles title in Brookline, Mass., knocking off Ralston and Clark Graebner.

Ralston, from Bakersfield, Calif., is No. 3 seed and Graebner, Beachwood, Ohio, is No. 7.

Stolle admitted, however, that his unseeded role probably would make him more relaxed.

Meets Outsider

He opens against outsider Theodore Gorski of Fort Worth, Tex., and doesn't figure to have a major match until the fourth round. His opponent then probably will come from the quartet of Mexico's Rafael Osuna, Ronnie Barnes of Brazil, Marty Mulligan of Australia or Ralston.

Ralston, 24 and the chief hope in America's Davis Cup plans, said after he and Graebner had been beaten in Brookline that he is seriously considering semi-retirement after this year.

"This is the last of the long tour deals for me," Ralston said. "Next year I may play in only a few tournaments. I'm still trying to decide. It's more than likely that I'll go back to school and finish."

He has a year to go for a degree at Southern California. A victory at Forest Hills, however, or a triumph in the Davis Cup could change his mind.

The women's seed has Billie Jean King, Long Beach, Calif., No. 1, followed by Maria Bueno, Brazil, and Nancy Richey, San Angelo, Tex.

The tourney at the West Side Tennis Club runs through Sept. 11.

Upstater Wins

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Welterweight Dickie DiVeronica of the central New York community of Canastota gained a hard-fought decision over Severa Balboa Tuesday in a 10-round bout.

DiVeronica weighed 144½, while Balboa, of Corpus Christi, Tex., weighed 146½.

(Freeman Sports Editor)

The sports exclusive in the Sunday Times that the New York Yankees are planning to break up the aging Bomber for the 1967 campaign should be welcome news to Mike Ferraro's followers.

It has been a frustrating experience for Mike's followers to read periodically about the boys the Yankees were bringing up from the Toledo farm, who figured in the 1967 plans.

Ferraro has been doing a stead, professional job at third base for the slumping Toledo Mudhens. He remains on the Yankees' 40-man reserve roster and despite the glowing publicity accorded other farmhands — Bobby Murcer and Jim Hegan, for example.

The Kingston lad is certain to see action after the Labor Day callup from the minors. If the Yankee writers in general seem to have ignored Mike, not so the Yankee broadcasters, particularly Joe Garagiola.

In some of the cuff remarks during a Yankee game rain lull, Garagiola and Phil Rizzuto fine combed the Yankee farmhands at Toledo and Ferraro was not overlooked. Garagiola quoted one Toledo observer as remarking that Ferraro, not as flashy as some of his teammates, always "came to play." In baseball Jargon, this is a high compliment.

9-Year-Old Winner

Nine-year-old Bobby Graves showed his dad, the Kingston Sport Club soccer manager and Port Ewen schoolmaster, how it's done in a hole-in-one contest at the Columbia Resort in Sullivan county. Young Graves holed out a 5-yard ace with a 7-iron to win over a group of house guests. He received a trophy for the feat . . . Speaking of soccer, Oehler's Mountain Lodge field figures to be a busy place for the remainder of the season. Next on tap is the Sunday doubleheader between Kingston and Hoboken and a Canadian All Star team against the 1966 League champion Shamrocks of the German-American Football Association. The Kickers also plan their annual exhibition against the crew of the Bremen and there is a possibility the University of West Berlin will make Oehler's one of its stops on their American tour in October.

The Final Statistics:

No less than sixteen 300 games were rolled by WIBC bowlers in the calendar year, 1965-66 . . Highest three game series was the 769 by Betty Pattayina of Campbell, Calif. Martha Carlon, Buffalo, was runnerup with 763 . . . Best team single was the 1135 by Pickwick Bowl of Los Angeles. The Alamo's Catering of Detroit rolled top series of 3169 . . . Since the first one by Mrs. Charles Fahning of Buffalo, N. Y. in 1929-30, only 117 WIBC-sanctioned perfect games have been rolled . . . New York State leads all states in individual WIBC membership with 284,038 but yields to California, 15,163 to 10,734 in total number of leagues. Biggest city membership is the 80,982 in Detroit. Chicago has most leagues for a city—2,089.

The Twin-Doublers . . .

It looked like a large coincidence to us that the only harness tracks involved in the current "fix" investigations are the three that operate the twin double — Monticello, Roosevelt and Yonkers. No mention of Saratoga, Canadaigua or Vernon Downs. Perhaps it's because the Big Three are in the metropolitan district of New York City. It will be interesting to note what role the twin double plays in the investigation.

4---Green Bay

OFFENSE

PASSING—Not every quarterback could win with Green Bay, says Allie Sherman of Giants, so it's time to pay tribute to Bart Starr as one of outstanding field generals in pro ball, any era. Oldster Zeke Bratowski was sharp enough in division playoff to retain job. RATING—A—

RECEIVING—Soon as they decide on a split end, the cast will be set. Allen Brown, hurt last year, or rookie Tony Jeter have wide open shot at job. Will go back to Bill Anderson in emergency, Carroll Dale, Boyd Dowler have wide spot support from Bob Long. Not the greatest but good enough. RATING—B

RUNNING—With all the publicity and money, invested in Jim Grabowski and Danny Anderson, Coach Vince Lombardi will still rely on Jim Taylor-Paul Hornung tandem for the chips-down stuff. Rookies do solve any anxiety about depth, though, and made it possible to trade off Tom Moore. Rating—B+

LINE—Packers only got moving last year when they reinstated old reliable Jerry Kramer, Fuzzy Thurston at guards and shifted Forrest Gregg back to tackle. There's a lot of buzz about making a spot for Gale Cillingham, a huge kid from Minnesota, but if there's any change up front, it'll be Bill Curry challenging Ken Bowman at center. RATING—B

KICKING—Get all they need, both punting and placekicking, from Don Chandler, whose field goals were decisive in winning the division title. And Hornung or Jerry Kramer could do job, too. RATING—A—

DEFENSE

LINE—Gillingham might be even better defense prospect, but there's not going to be much tinkering with the established front four that's led by Willie Davis, Henry Jordan. You can run straight at 'em, but not around 'em, and they provide adequate pass rush. Tackle Ron Kostelnik's a husky who deserves more attention. Couple of big guys like Lloyd Voss might come on. RATING—B

LINEBACKING—Awsome in size and in performance. Couldn't ask for better physical specimens than Ray Nitschke in middle, Lee Roy Caffey and Dave Robinson on the corners. Nitschke hasn't lost any of his head-knocking zest. Quality falls off sharpley after top trio. RATING—A—

SECONDARY—Willie Wood and Herb Adderley are always all-pro contenders and at the top of their game. They stabilize the unit. Tommy Brown at strong safety is still improving. Could be a good dogfight between Doug Hart and Bobby Jeter for the regular right corner job. RATING—B

SUMMARY—This is typical Packer team—experience, smart, confident—and leave it to Lombardi to keep them hustling. Pride won it for them last year. But there is a symptom of old age creeping up on them. Eleven starters are over 30. It'll show late in the season. PREDICTION—THIRD.

Caller Really Was the General

ARDMORE, Pa. (AP) — The telephone rang at the U.S. Golf Association Tournament office here, and a crisp, business-like voice at the other end said:

"This is the Pentagon calling."

"The Pentagon?" gulped Frank Hannigan, assistant director of the USGA. "Yes?"

"The general is on his way," the caller said.

"You must have the wrong number," Hannigan protested. "This is the Merion Golf Club."

The three-star general, a scratch player who once shot a 67 over the awesome Pine Valley Club in New Jersey, goes into the tournament a little apprehensively.

"If I happened to do anything or get my name in the paper, there's no telling what criticism I'd get," Compton said. "It's all right for a business executive or a professional man to play golf, but a government official is always under scrutiny.

"I'd like to make it quite clear that I am on leave. If anything of a serious nature came up, we have fellows at the Pentago to handle it."

Television Lure That Got Sanders To Carling Golf

SOUTHPORT, England (AP) — If Doug Sanders wins the $200,000 Carling Golf Championship opening today on Royal Birkdale, those who lost can blame it on television.

"I wouldn't even be here, if it were not that I have to do a television golf show in Britain," the 33-year-old Sanders said, as he managed only one round of practice before the 72-hole medal play started.

"It's too far to come for one tournament at this time of the year and I suppose that is why some did not make it."

The biggest total purse in the golf world failed to attract Arnold Palmer, Jack Nicklaus and Gary Player, but with Sanders, U.S. Open champion Bill Casper, Gay Brewer and Phil Rodgers on hand the tournament had four of the top six money winners in America.

Casper has racked up $113,000 this year and is 4-1 favorite to win the tournament. Sanders has won $70,000 officially and another $20,000 in unofficial purses. He stands at 6 to 1 along with Rodgers.

Included in the tournament are 90 Americans, 25 Britons and golf stars from Europe, Latin America, Australia, Asia and Africa.

The clubhouse flew the Stars and Stripes today at half mast in memory of last champion, Tony Lema, who was killed recently in a plane crash.

After today's and Thursday's 18-hole rounds, the field will be reduced to the low 75 and ties for Friday and Saturday.

Mrs. William D. (Chris) Harris' victory in the Ulster County Women's Golf Association championship tournament was a popular one. For many years the graceful Port Ewen swinger had played in the shadow of the peerless Wiggie deLisio of Woodstock and had been a perennial runnerup.

Mrs. Harris' hard earned laurels will be challenged severely in the future. Mrs. Harry Kennedy of Woodstock and the new crop at Wiltwyck—Mrs. Clifford Spiesman, Mrs. Arthur Motzkin and Mrs. Sidney Pauker are formidable challengers and there is always that unheralded newcomer.

Meanwhile, Mrs. de Lisio, off the tournament trail for several years, is making a nice recovery from her hip ailments and hopes to play some open golf before the season is over.

Dodgers Are The Best:

Leo Durocher, the bashful maestro of the Chicago Cubs, has put the torrid National League pennant race in its proper perspective. "The Dodgers are the best club in the league and I hope they win it," said Leo. That should settle that. . . Why should Yogi Berra return to the New York Yankees as a coach after leading them to a pennant as manager? Berra who is dumb like a fox, is not likely to respond to Yankee blandishments, even with the threatened "whole sale shakeup" of the club in 1967. . . Harvey Bostic's four Wiltwyck Invitational titles, one round robin and two Wiltwyck club titles prove what the golfing fraternity has known for a long time—he's a bearcat at head to head play.

MAJOR LEAGUE STYLE:

A tip of the hat to the Saugerties Softball League, which conducts it operation in big league style. For regularity and clarity of reports, standings and general information to the press, the Saugerties circuit is in a class by itself. It maintains impeccable records and statistics in greater depth than any area sports organization we can remember. We're sorry its 100-inning softball marathon was a bit of a financial dud, but it was an imaginative enterprise that deserved a better fate.

HOLD THOSE TIGERS:

The fact that Sandy Koufax of the Dodgers and Juan Marichal of the Giants have faced each other only three times in their careers points up the modern trend in pitching strategy—never start your ace against the other guy's ace. For the record, Marichal leads 2 to 1. He beat Koufax, 7 to 1, lost 4-3, then picked up a win in relief. Today's strategy dictates you start one of your secondary pitchers against the big ace and if you win, well, it's all gravy. If you lose, it was expected wasn't it?

The last two great head to head duels were the Dizzy Dean vs. Carl Hubbel and Hal Newhouser vs. Bob Feller vendettas. They were profitable, too.

BIG TENNIS YEAR:

Buoyed by the New York State Jaycees tournament, tennis experienced a boom in Ulster county this season. The Hudson Valley Open and Junior tournaments at New Paltz drew heavy entries and outstanding fields. The current Ulster County championships being conducted by the Kingston Tennis Association has the best field in recent years. N. Jansen (Nick) Fowler and his KTA associates are most responsible for the resurgence of tennis in our midst. A kudo to the Kingston Jaycees for snaring the New York State Jaycee Spectacular for the second straight year in 1967. We trust the golf committtee will limit next year's Jaycee championship to 36 holes.

Wins Four Races, Credited With Two

CANANDAIGUA, N.Y. (AP)—A 28 - year-old jockey brought his horses home first in four races Tuesday but only was credited with two official victories, as the other mounts were disqualified at the Finger Lakes Race Track.

Two of Peter Brandt's official triumphs included the $1,400 feature race won by Floex, a nose over Classic Day. The winner covered the 5½ furlongs in 1:06 1-5 and paid $20.80, $8.40 and $3.80.

Third was Dark Betty.

Brandt of Highand Park, N.J., also won with Jet Flow in the sixth race. His horses in the first race, Brasstown Bald, and in the second race, Working Capital, were disqualified for interfering with other horses.

Because of a dead heat there were two daily double combinations. In the first, 6-3 paid $16.40 and 6-8 paid $38.40.

Speedster Colts Take Two Races

Speedy Man and Lady B. Fast, victors in trotting races at Saratoga and Monticello raceways Tuesday night, have something in common.

Both bay horses were sired by Speedster.

Speedy Man, a 4-year - old, won the $3,000 trot at Saratoga by a length over Rich Hup. Jet Fighter was third in the event, timed in 2:05 4-5 over a fast track.

Speedy Man returned $3.60.

At Monticello, Lady B. Fast defeated Venice Hanover and third - place Freight Skirt in the $1,500 trot. The winner, a 2-year-old filly, covered the mile in 2:10 2-5 and returned $13.40.

In races featured at other New York State harness tracks:

YONKERS — Mighty Amigo ($15.40) edged Key Feature by three-quarters of a length in the Dobbs Ferry Pace in 2:04 1-5.

VERNON DOWNS — Nelda's Gold ($2.80) and Good Knight Lobell ($3.40) battled through the stretch and finished in a dead heat in the $1,200 pace. The pair was timed in 2:03 3-5.

Allen, who left the Yankees in 1964, is also a full-time sportscaster for NBC and appears on the network's weekend Monitor programs.

All-America Joe, Bellino That Is, Just Another Joe

By MIKE RECHT

Joe Bellino, former All-America and Heisman Trophy winner who ran Navy into the Orange Bowl in 1961, is just another Joe today. He and his football cleats and his trophy are all on the shelf.

The Boston Patriots of the American Football League seem to have brought down the flashy back for the final time when they asked waivers on him Tuesday, a day that sent many others to the sidelines in the AFL and the National Football League.

NFL teams had to be down to the 43-man limit by midnight Tuesday and AFL teams, preparing for their 40-player maximum later in the week, also lowered the ax.

Bellino, 28, who entered the Navy for four years after his college career, was hampered by injuries last season when he began his try for a comeback as a runner and flanker with the Patriots. He never got off the ground this year.

Stephens Released

Joining Bellino on the AFL sidelines is another former college great, Sandy Stephens, who was erased from the roster of the Kansas City Chiefs. Stephens, an All-America who led Minnesota into the Rose Bowl, was trying to make it as a fullback after failing as a 244-pound quarterback in Canadian football.

NFL veterans Lou Slaby, linebacker of the New York Giants; Mike Sandusky, guard with the Pittsburgh Steelers; John Gonzaga and Ted Karras, linemen with the Detroit Lions; Billy Ray Barnes, back with Minnesota, and former all-league cornerback Tony Banfield of the Houston Oilers of the AFL also were released.

Halfback Dan Lewis, trying to make it with the new Atlanta Falcons of the NFL, also was let go. Karl Rubke, a 10-year veteran defensive end, was cut by San Francisco of the NFL and quickly claimed by Atlanta.

The Dallas Cowboys received veteran defensive back Jim Steffen from Washington, completing an NFL trade in which the Redskins got three players earlier.

The Redskins also obtained the rights to rookie fullback Joe Kantor from the Philadelphia Eagles for a future draft choice.

Thirty Crews in Lightning Class

POINT ALBINO, Ont. (AP)—Thirty skippers and their crews set sail today in the first of five races that will determine the 1966 winner of the North American Lightning Class Championship.

Two races were scheduled for today with a race a day planned for Thursday through Saturday. The races are over a seven-mile course on Lake Erie off Point Albino, just west of Buffalo, N.Y.

The event started Sunday with 105 entrants and was narrowed down through preliminary races to 30 qualifiers.

The qualifiers seek a title now held by Tom Allen of the Buffalo Canoe Club, who is after his sixth North American crown.

Bob Seidelmann of Cherry Hill, N.J., at the tiller of his 19-foot white - hulled boat, Idiot, sailed away Tuesday with his third consecutive victory in the qualifying races. The New Jersey sailor tops the list of qualifiers with 108 points.

Lady B. Fast Wins Mighty M Race

MONTICELLO — Lady B. Fast, a two-year-old daughter of Speedster - Lady Levity, served notice that she'll be a worthy opponent in next week's $15,000 juvenile education program trot final at Monticello Raceway. Her calling card last night at the Mighty M was a 2:10.2 victory in the night's featured fourth race over the best two-year-old trotters on the grounds.

Owed by the Bregman Farm of Bloomingburg, New York, and trained by Bill Popfinger, Lady B. Fast came from off the early pace to whip Venice Hanover, Bill Vaughan driving, and Clint Hodgin's Freight Skirt. The victory somewhat cleared a scrambled picture for two-year-old trotter of the year honors at the Mighty M but it looks like next Monday's final will tell the tale.

For the Bay Miss, this was the second triumph of her life and the time was a new personal record. She returned $13.40, 5.40 and 3.80 across the board.

The 6 and 6 daily double paid $36.00. Winning horses were Watcher Howard in the first and Daley Dorwood in the second. The evening's twin double returned $861.00. Winning combination was 2-1-2-5 and there were 25 live tickets.

Mighty M Horse In Hambletonian

MONTICELLO—When an all-star field of 10 three-year-old trotting colts and fillies parade postward for today's blue ribbon Hambletonian, Monticello Raceway fans and officials will be pulling for one of the entries. That entry is All American, a colt the Mighty M people like to call "their own."

All American is a son of Speedster - Americana who is owned by the Alnoff Stables of Hewlett, N. Y. and Jim Wingfield of Leesburg, Ga. He will be driven by Mighty M regular Charlie Norris Jr.

In a sense, All American is Monticello's "own." The colt did most of his racing at the Sullivan County oval last year under the juvenile education program banner and made his first two starts of the present campaign here. He's only won one race in his life and that was last year at the mountain plant in 2:10 3/5.

Actually, All American only raced at one other track last year besides Monticello. That was at Yonkers where he finished third in a $75,000 stakes.

After making the first start of his life over the Mighty M course, he went on to bank $15,135 with four seconds and three thirds to augment his lone victory in ten starts. He finished second to Danny Dean in the juvenile education program finals to end his 1965 season.

Yonkers Corrals Crack Field in $25,000 Direct

Five of the nation's fastest aged pacers now in training today entered the $25,000 Billy Direct Free-For-All Handicap Pace Thursday at Yonkers Raceway for a duel that may threaten the track record for a mile.

Track record-holder Cardigan Bay, the possessor of a sparkling 1:58 1/5 mile set in 1964, heads the starry array of pacers that also will include Murdock Hanover, Rivaltime, Tactile and Gee Lee Hanover. The linemaker installed Cardigan Bay the 6-5 favorite, although the ex-New Zealander was assigned the outside 5 post position by racing secretary A. E. (Ted) Gibbons.

Because of the small field and the prospect gigantic minus pool, Yonkers Raceway was granted permission from the New York State Harness Racing Commission to conduct win betting only on the Billy Direct Pace. Additionally, the commission also allowed Yonkers to program 10 races for Thursday in place of the usual nine. The Twin Double races will be the seventh, eighth, ninth, and tenth.

1—Gee Lee Hanover, Harold Dancer Jr. 8-1
2—Tactile, John Chapman, 6-1
3—Rivaltime, Carmine Abbatiello, 3-1.
4—Murdock Hanover, Bob Camper, 2-1
5—Cardigan Bay, Stanley Dancer, 6-5.

Wins 7th Straight

New Windup Is Magic For Tiger Earl Wilson

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Earl Wilson used to be like a defective watch spring: either he was wound up too much, or he wasn't wound up enough.

Now however, the spring apparently is fixed, and Wilson is ticking accurately and steadily.

The 30-year-old right-hander gained his seventh straight victory and 16th over-all Tuesday night as the Tigers edged Baltimore 5-4, handing the American League-leading Orioles their fourth straight defeat.

When Wilson left Boston for Detroit June 13, he took with him a 5-5 record and a 3.83 earned run average. Since then he's compiled an 11-4 mark and a 2.90 era.

Tiger Vice President Rick Ferrell thinks he has the answer to Wilson's past performance that was a few jewels less than 17.

"I remember seeing him several years ago," Ferrell said, "when he had the big kick and the exaggerated windup. He couldn't get near the plate. Then he went into the no-windup stance. I don't like this. Guys who go for the no-windup invariably come up with a bad arm.

Simple Windup Now

"Wilson now has a simple windup, and he's throwing strikes."

The seven-year veteran is throwing strikes so well he's won seven straight games in the past 31 days.

In other American League games, Kansas City defeated New York 4-1, Minnesota trimmed Washington 3-1, Cleveland downed Chicago 6-2 and Boston edged California 7-6.

For his latest victory, Wilson needed ninth-inning relief help from Orlando Pena, who put down a bases-loaded threat. The Tigers, however, had built a lead on homers by Jim Northrup, Al Kaline and Norm Cash. Brooks and Frank Robinson connected for Baltimore.

Kansas City's John Odom pitched a one-hitter, allowing New York only a second-inning double by Roger Maris. Jim Gosger drove in two runs for the Athletics with a fifth-inning single, one of 11 hits off Mel Stottlemyre, now 11-16.

Jimmie Hall rapped a two-run single in the sixth inning that proved decisive for Minnesota. Jim Merritt held Washington to five hits, one of them Fred Valentine's seventh-inning homer.

Max Alvis propelled Cleveland to its victory over Chicago, slamming a two-run homer in the second. It was the first Indian homer in Chicago this season. Larry Brown added a two-run single in the Cleveland fourth.

Boston erupted for five runs in the sixth inning, wiping out California's 6-2 lead. Carl Yastrzemski, who singled home a first-inning run, put the Red Sox ahead 7-6 with a two-run homer. Paul Schaal and Jose Cardenal homered for the Angels.

Toronto Takes Over Top Spot

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

It took the Toronto Maple Leafs three months to climb from the International League basement to the top of the pile, and now only one question remains: How long can they stay there?

If the Maple Leafs can hang on to the lead for another six days they'll be the new league champions. The season ends Labor Day.

The Maple Leafs took over the top spot Tuesday night with a 6-2 win over Syracuse, which occupies last place in the standings, the position Toronto held as late as the last week in May.

A nine-strikeout pitching performance by Ed Rakow backed up by four Toronto home runs gave the Maple Leafs their victory at Syracuse. Cleanup man Reggie Smith led the assault with a pair of homers, good for three RBIs.

The Jets' victory at Jacksonville was marred by a ninth inning free for all which saw Sun manager Solly Hemus and Columbus players Don Leppert and Wilbur Wood ejected from the game.

Three policemen were on the field when umpires finally restored order.

The Jets scored the winning run in the seventh when Sun centerfielder Shaun Fitzmaurice misjudged a liner off the bat of Jose Martinez, allowing Bob Oliver to score all the way from first.

Two scoreless relief innings by Sam Jones preserved the win for southpaw Luke Walker.

Over 18,000 fans were on hand at Buffalo to watch the Bisons snap a five-game losing streak mainly on the strength of four straight hits by Steve Boros. Jim Duffalo won it for the Bisons.

Richmond strengthened its bid for fourth place and a playoff berth on the shutout pitching of Dan Schneider and Chi Chi Olivo and home runs by Bill Robinson and Sandy Alomar.

Schneider gave up just one hit over the first seven innings before tiring in the eighth.

Richards Named VP at Atlanta

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) —Baseball veteran Paul Richards was named a vice president of the Atlanta Braves today, ending speculation that he might manage the team next season.

Richards 57, was fired as general manager of the Houston Astros last winter. He has been working with Atlanta rookies the past two months.

Bill Bartholomay, chairman of the board of the Braves, announced Richards' promotion to vice president, and said, "His duties encompass full responsibility for the acquisition and development of players in our system."

Bartholomay also said that John McHale, vice president and general manager of the club, will remain in those posts "and will assist men in other areas of our company."

There have been reports that Richards will take over many of the duties performed by McHale in the past as general manager.

Isolationism Is Suicide Meany Says to Legion

WASHINGTON (AP) — AFL-CIO President George Meany called today for continuation of the policy of "containment of Communist imperialism."

In a speech for the 48th annual convention of the American Legion, Meany rejected "every form of isolationism as suicidal and out of date." He also rejected preventive war as a fatal fallacy.

"President Johnson," he said, "deserves the whole-hearted support of the entire American people — and freedom-loving people everywhere — for his policy of determined resistance to Communist aggression while striving tirelessly for a negotiated peace and helping the (Vietnamese) people to rebuild their war-torn country. Any other course would lead to catastrophe."

Johnson drew applause from the Legionnaires Tuesday when he said that American fighting men, faced with an enemy using unfamiliar tactics, "are beating him in engagement after engagement."

Among speakers on today's schedule was former Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

The convention approved Tuesday a change in the Legion constitution designed to open membership to veterans of the Viet Nam conflict.

If Congress, which holds the Legion charter, follows through with necessary legislation, all persons serving in the armed forces from Aug. 5, 1964, the date of the Tonkin Gulf incident, to the end of hostilities as determined by the government, could join the Legion.

In the Tonkin Gulf incident the United States, retaliating for what officials said were North Vietnamese attacks on U.S. ships, attacked PT boats and their bases.

Hitherto Legion membership has been limited to veterans of the two world wars, and the Korean conflict.

Mark AAA School

to alert motorists of the need for extra driving care as thousands of local youngsters begin their new school term.

300 Displayed

In Ulster County, more than 300 posters will be displayed on utility and street light poles. Members of the Kingston Police Department are lending their support to this important program aimed at safeguarding children by mounting "School's Open" posters throughout the city.

An additional reminder to motorists in this area will be provided by the AAA in the form of 160,000 bumper strips bearing the safety message. The strips will be displayed on buses, trucks, official cars and passenger vehicles.

Starting with the first day of school, Sept. 7, members of the AAA sponsored School Safety Patrols will report for duty at school crossings to insure the safety of local school children by assisting police and school crossing guards.

Started in 1946

The AAA campaign was started in 1946. Since then, traffic fatalities among children from 5 to 14 years have been sharply reduced in New York State despite a considerable increase in both motor vehicle registrations and school population.

Wagner Insists He's Not a Candidate Now

NEW YORK (AP) — Former Mayor Robert F. Wagner says Democratic party leaders have been urging him to run for governor, but insists he is not a candidate — "at this time."

Asked why he had used the qualifying phrase at a meeting Tuesday of the Democratic forum, Wagner replied:

"I don't want anyone to think that I'm so old because I might want to run in a primary for Assembly or something."

Wagner admitted he had been under some "pressure" from labor groups as well as prominent party members to join the governorship race, but added, "obviously I have not given them any encouragement."

Questioned on the possibility he might accept the Liberal party nomination for governor, the former mayer said:

"That an iffy question. I have not discussed the matter with anyone in the Liberal party so it would be presumptuous of me to answer."

Navy Hits 2 More

It was the 348th U.S. plane reported lost over North Viet Nam.

In heavy raids Tuesday, U.S. Air Force, Marine and Navy pilots flew 139 missions, striking at oil storage depots and transportation facilities in the Hanoi and Haiphong areas and in the southern Panhandle just above the demilitarized zone.

Pilots said over-all they damaged 11 oil depots, eight military camps and 28 storage areas. They also reported they destroyed or damaged 47 cargo barges, 53 trucks and 32 bridges.

Over South Viet Nam, B52 bombers struck a suspected Viet Cong troop and storage area 30 miles northwest of coastal Qui Nhon today.

A U.S. spokesman said ground forces found 23 Viet Cong dead during a follow-up sweep of an area 40 miles southwest of Saigon hit by B52s Tuesday. They also took two prisoners and seized large amounts of rice.

In the Navy jet attacks on the North Vietnamese patrol boats, planes from the aircraft carrier Constellation spotted one 55 miles southeast of Haiphong and lit it up with flares before dawn. When the boat opened fire, the planes attacked with rockets and cannon. The pilots reported a direct rocket hit engulfed the torpedo boat in flames. The boat made for a nearby island where it was left beached and burning, the pilots said.

Fired Upon

Soon after in the same area, other Navy pilots were fired on by another PT boat and reported damaging the craft.

Over South Viet Nam, American pilots flew 396 sorties Tuesday and claimed destroying or damaging more than 300 enemy structures, entrenchments and sampans. South Vietnamese pilots flew 248 sorties Tuesday.

In the only ground action reported of any size, South Vietnamese headquarters said 28 Viet Cong were killed and two were captured Tuesday 38 miles southwest of Saigon by a multi-battalion force of government rangers and militiamen.

Vietnamese headquarters also reported a series of terror attacks by Viet Cong guerrillas Tuesday.

House Plans to

Federal Reserve Board discretion on interest rates "would leave the terrible situation in the same hands which caused it." He contends the board's actions are responsible for the present tight money situation.

The Rules Committee decided Patman's bill will be considered by the House, but also said a vote on substituting the administration bill will be allowed.

Withholding Tax In New York City To Start Sept. 1

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York City withholding tax starts Thursday, affecting more than three million residents and commuters.

It means paying the individual income tax on all income, including interest and dividends, regardless of whether they are received in the city.

The 600,000 commuters will pay about one-quarter to one-half as much as the 2.5 million residents.

The tax on residents is graduated from 0.4 per cent to 2 per cent, depending on the amount of income. The tax on gross wages of non-residents is one-quarter of one per cent, while the level on self-employed non-residents is three-eighths of one per cent.

Exemptions for a resident are $600 for a taxpayer and $600 for each of his dependents. The non-resident is allowed an exemption of $3,000 on earnings up to $10,000 a year; $2,000 on earnings between $10,000 and $20,000; $1,000 on earnings between $20,000 and $30,000 and nothing above $30,000.

A resident — having only his own deduction — could pay a $64 annual tax, $46 if he had four exemptions. A non-resident with a gross $10,000 income earned in the city would pay $17.50 if this came from salary, $26.25 if self-employed.

Some taxpayers will have to file estimates Oct. 1 on additional income subject to city taxes. An estimate will have to be filed by any resident whose annual income beyond wages or salary exceeds $400.

Non-residents will not have to file estimates unless self-employed, with annual self-employment income in the city exceeding $15,000.

The withholding rates for the next four months have been set high enough to take into account the fact that the new taxes actually are retroactive to last July 1. The rates will drop to a normal level Jan. 1, with April 15 the deadline for filing final returns.

Mayor John V. Lindsay said Tuesday that the city "has gone about as deeply into the well as it can on local taxation."

New Yorkers, said Lindsay, "need federal help."

Wilson Suggests

pation in elections by those serving overseas, particularly those who are stationed in remote areas or war zones.

Assemblyman Wilson also wished to remind everyone who has someone in the service that all applications for military ballots have to be received by the Division for Servicemen's Voting by October 27, and urged any parent, spouse, or adult child of a serviceman stationed overseas to obtain an application form from the Ulster County Board of Elections at the County Office Building, Kingston, as soon as possible.

Recently the Ulster County Assemblyman received a letter from the Chairman of the New York State Division of Servicemen's Voting, Elmer F. Lux, in which the chairman informed Mr. Wilson that the division heartily endorsed the Assemblyman's legislation, and Mr. Lux commended Assemblyman Wilson for introducing the measure on behalf of all of the state's servicemen who are now serving overseas.

Will Draft Bill

contribution to a total far exceeding what Congress had contemplated.

The Ways and Means Committee weeks ago began closed hearings with state officials and members of the welfare department. No announcements were made, but it was learned that the committee has reached an informal consensus that there must be federal legislation. Now the informational hearings have given way to preliminary drafting sessions.

Under the New York plan, which has not been approved by the Federal Welfare Department, a family of four may qualify if its income is $6,000 a year or less, after deducting taxes and health insurance premiums. However, such families earning as much as $4,500 would have to pay part of their health bills.

Former Area Recruiter Now Stationed in Viet

Marine Lieut. James P. Wagner, who was stationed in Kingston for some time as recruiting officer for the Marine Corps, is presently serving in Viet Nam, according to a letter received by Commandant Gilbert E. Gray, of the Ulster Detachment of the Marine Corps.

Lt. Wagner was in Da Nang when he wrote on Aug. 22. "Never before has the Marine Corps been put to a greater challenge," Wagner wrote, 'and contrary to what some people in the states believe, these troops do know why they are here and are doing a fine job.

"Nobody likes it, but despite this the Marines of today are every bit as good as in the past," Wagner said. He told Gray that his unit has just completed one large scale operation—Operation Hastings, which the lieutenant said was one of the most successful operations to date, and he added, "the Marine Corps really distinguished themselves, as the operation will probably go down as just another operation, but for those who remember, it will compare with some of the big ones.

Wagner said thart Lieut. Wilson of Woodstock "really did a tremendous job." Wagner did not elaborate on that remark or further identify the Woodstock officer.

Financial and Commercial

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market continued a strong rally early this afternoon despite some mild profit taking. Trading was active.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was up 11.19 at 786.91.

The market advanced from the opening following Tuesday's strong rebound. After the first half hour, profit taking trimmed gains and brought about some net losses among glamor stocks. The general market remained well ahead, however, and a new buying drive ensued.

Glamor stocks were in the forefront once again. The color televisions, other electronics, office equipments, airlines and aerospace stocks continued to be the favorite trading vehicles, as they have all year.

Blue chips in various groups also were strong. Chemicals, rails, oils, motors, steels and utilities went ahead.

Ostrich Is Killed In Forsyth Park

Local police and city officials have experienced a variety of maliciousness in recent years but seldom meet with such wantoness as discovery this morning in Forsyth Park.

Police were notified at 6:58 a. m. that "someone had killed the ostrich" in the park. Officers George Deyo and Howard Kelly investigated and reported that it "appears to have been killed by a pointed object." It had been wounded in the stomach.

Adrew J. Murphy III, local recreation superintendent now on vacation, said the ostrich, which came from the Catskill Game Farm, had been at the park some five years. He said it had apparently been lured against a fence section of its pen by someone who fed it corn, some of which was found scattered in the area this morning.

Arnold Adams, SPCA agent who had also been notified, said the size of the wound indicated that a large or heavy instrument had been used.

Market Breaks String of Losses

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market has broken its string of steep losses but brokers caution that the overhanging worries are still there.

The market Tuesday powered its way to a substantial gain in heavy trading.

It was the first advance since last Wednesday and only the second in 11 sessions.

Wall Street saw some hope for a market that has been in a slide for seven months. But analysts were careful to avoid optimism.

"A recovery from these levels would be viewed as primarily technical in character as the fundamental circumstances which led to the market's decline from its high have not altered in any significant manner," said Marty Gordon, analyst for the brokerage firm Bache & Co.

Robert Johnson, research director for another brokerage house, Paine, Webber, Jackson & Curtis, commented that the market's action "achieved little in the way of reducing investors' confusion."

The circumstances and confusion to which they referred included tight money, higher interest rates, Viet Nam, the possibility of wage and price controls and the weakness of the British pound.

Some or all of these problems have been dangling over the market since the Dow Jones average of 30 industrials reached its all-time high of 995.15 last Feb. 9.

This week talk of a depression stemming from spiraling interest rates added to investors' pessimism. Former President Harry S. Truman said a depression might occur. President Johnson disagreed.

Of 1,432 issues traded, 710 advanced and 498 declined.

Area Needs Noted

asking the Army Corps of Engineers to send a task force immediately to see the problems for themselves," the Congresman said. "I am also asking the Bureau of Outdoor recreation to investigate the potential for development of the River."

Calls for Probe

Last week, the Congressman, after a personal inspection of conditions in Catskill, called upon the Army Corps of Engineers to investigate the "deplorable conditions of sedimentation and debris" in the Catskill Creek as well as the dangerous conditions faced by the residents who live on the banks of the Creek which are rapidly eroding.

The second half of the trip will take the Congressman down the lower part of the Mid-Hudson region between Kingston and Poughkeepsie. Resnick's floatilla will leave from Kingston on Saturday morning and he stated plans to stop at as many marinas and piers as he possibly could to further his discussions on problems of the development of the Hudson.

$200,000 Is Total

Breakage Monies From Race Tracks In Distribution

NEW YORK (AP) — Nearly $200,000 from the state's cut at harness race tracks will be given to 42 town and county fairs for maintenance and other improvements, Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller announced Wednesday.

The governor said grants marked "the first time the state has had the oppotunity to assist the agricultural societies throughout the state."

Tax-free funds for the fair-improvement program came from the percentage or "breakage" the state receives at New York's eight harness raceways.

The program, managed by the agriculture and New York State Horse Breeding Development Fund, began operations in January 1966.

"The 1965 Legislature established the fund to promote and develop agriculture generally, as well as the improvement of the breeding of standard bred horses particularly," the governor said.

GOP Announces

He said the other 12 delegate candidates would be selected within a few days.

Keating, the former U.S. senator, is rated by party leaders as a top vote - getter. Although he lost his Senate seat to Robert F. Kennedy in 1964, Keating rolled up a majority of more than a million votes in winning election to the Court of Appeals last year.

Moore also has fared well at the polls, gaining election first as state comptroller and then as lieutenant governor during the administration of former Gov. Thomas E. Dewey. Moore retired two years ago as chairman of the State University's board of trustees.

GOP leader had attempted to persuade Dewey, as well, to run for delegate - at-large, but the ex-governor declined.

Dewey Declines

Republican State Chairman Carl Spad said Tuesday that Dewey had given careful thought to the invitation but concluded that he could not spare enough time from his New York City law firm to do the job properly.

However, Spad said, Dewey will deliver a "major address" before the party's state convention in Rochester next Wednesday evening.

Word of the Keating and Moore selections came as Howard J. Samuels, seeking the Democratic nomination for governor, publicly urged Javits to reconsider his decision to run as a delegate.

Samuels contended at a news conference in New York City that there were already too many politicians, lawyers and judges on both the Democratic and Republican delegate slates.

186 to Be Named

A total of 186 convention delegates will be elected in November — three from each Senate district besides the 15 at-large. The Senate district candidates were chosen in the June primary.

U.S. Sen. Robert F. Kennedy has been mentioned as a possible choice to head the Democratic slate, but Kennedy recently has been reported reluctant to accept the assignment.

Samuels said Kennedy should not run. He argued that Kennedy belonged in Washington and that Javits did, too.

The convention will meet in Albany next April. It is expected to take from three to six months to draft a remodeled State Constitution.

In another development, former Mayor Robert F. Wagner revealed in New York City that he had been invited to run as a Democratic delegate - at-large. Wagner said he was considering the offer.

Pays $60 Fine

Two of four charges lodged recently against Casey J. Crawley, 20, of Poughkeepsie, were dismissed in City Court today and he was fined on two others. He paid $50 for driving without a license and $10 for lacking registration. Charges of driving an uninspected vehicle and having no proof of insuranec were dismissed.

Trader Finds Difficulty in Waiting for Long Gains

Q) "A trader at heart, it's hard for me to hold long-term investments. In my two-year-old daughter's educational fund I have odd lots of Ashland Oil; Commercial Solvents; Federal Pacific Electric; Gulf & Western Industries; Kimberley - Clark; Lynch Communication Systems; Minerals & Chemicals-Philipp; Olin-Mathieson; St. Louis & San Fran. Rwy; John R. Thompson. Which shall I hold? I watch closely both the market and the current news." D.P.

A) Let me congratulate you on your skill in picking situations to trade. Since you know how to take advantage of news releases on what you hold, I suggest only one change for now. I would switch Commercial Solvents into FMC Corp. or Calgon. Both show promise of better-than-average growth in the next few years.

An educational fund should stress high-quality conservative equities for long-term holding. I have mentioned many such issues here recently. I urge you to consider five or six of these as replacements when you take further profits from your current holdings.

Q) "I understand that blocks of less than 100 shares are seldom handled on the floor of the NYSE. How are the 25-share lots handled which I buy?" B.W.

A) Round lots—usually 100 shares—are the basic unit for trading. Orders for less than 100 shares are usually referred to odd-lot dealers who handle smaller transactions. If you wanted to buy 25 shares of Standard Brands your broker would forward your order to an odd-lot dealer on the Exchange floor who would hold it until a round-lot trade was made in it. He would then sell you 25 shares from his inventory maintained for this purpose at the round-lot price plus service charge.

This amounts to 12½ cents a share on stocks selling under 55 and 25 cents a share for issues trading at 55 or above. When selling, the odd-lot fee lowers the proceeds by this differential. Your broker will charge you the standard NYSE commission rates for his services.

DeGaulle, Hanoi Spokesman Meet, War Is Topic

PHNOM PENH, Cambodia (AP) — President Charles de Gaulle and North Viet Nam's top representative in Cambodia discussed the Viet Nam war today at a 35-minute private meeting.

After the talk the Hanoi representative, Nguyen Thuong, expressed his pleasure at having met De Gaulle but would give newsmen no indication of what transpired.

A French spokesman said the initiative for the meeting "came from both sides." He said the French president wanted to inform himself from a direct source of Hanoi's attitude in the Vietnamese war.

Thuong arrived in Phnom Penh Aug. 25. His meeting with De Gaulle was "prepared" before the president began his round-the-world trip, a spokesman said.

Thuong formerly was ambassador to Guinea and secretary-general of the North Vietnamese Foreign Office. He is believed to be high in the conduct of Hanoi's foreign affairs.

No Indications

There was no indication that the talk would produce any move toward peace negotiations.

De Gaulle has sent two diplomats to Hanoi within the past year to sound out the North Vietnamese but neither mission produced any major results.

De Gaulle talked briefly with Thuong this morning at a diplomatic reception in the red and gilded throne room of the royal palace.

After the diplomatic reception, Sihanouk named De Gaulle honorary supreme general of the royal Cambodian armed forces and presented him with a silver baton.

In Bangkok, capital of neighboring Thailand, Thai officials termed as "pure fabrication" Prince Sihanouk's charge that 250 men had been trained and armed in Thailand to cause disorders in Cambodia during De Gaulle's visit.

Martin Mobilizes Traffic Patrols For Long Weekend

With Ulster County's traffic deaths already at an all-time level and the coming Labor Day Weekend with its heavy traffic approaching, Ulster County Sheriff William B. Martin is making plans to have a full force of deputies on the secondary highways of the county in an effort to control traffic and minimize the danger.

Main highways will be patroled by State Police in their usual manner but Sheriff Martin stated today he plans to have all available men on duty over the long weekend holiday.

Already Ulster County's traffic death toll has mounted to 42 and the National Safety Council is predicting a record number of highway fatalities for the long Labor Day weekend.

In order to regulate traffic Sheriff Martin will have all five patrol cars on duty around the clock, covering the secondary roads of the county. Each car will be manned by two deputies and all available extra men and special deputies will be available. These men have volunteered to donate their overtime service in an effort to cooperate with other law enforcement officials in the prevention of needless slaughter of highway travelers.

Extreme care has been urged by Governor Nelson Rockefeller to protect returning vacationists, especially chilren who will be returning from summer camps to resume their school activities after the summer recess.

Sheriff Martin said that extra vigilance is required and it is his hope that with extra traffic regulation and supervision in effect the county may be spared additional death on the local highways.

The Archdiocese includes the boroughs of Manhattan, the Bronx and Staten Island in New York and these seven counties in the southern part of the state: Dutchess, Orange, Putnam, Rockland, Sullivan, Ulster and Westchester. Enrollment in all the Catholic schools of the five five boroughs, including Brooklyn and Queens in the Diocese of Brooklyn, is expected to exceed 375,000 students.

New Schools Open

Several new Catholic schools in the Archdicese, opening this September, are providing facilities for this increased registration. Two new elementary schools in Orange County are ready for occupancy this fall. They are: Most Precious Blood School in Walden and St. Joseph's School in New Windson. In Shrub Oak, in Northern Westchester County, Blessed Elizabeth Seton School is accepting its first pupils. The fourth new school, St. Joseph and St. Thomas, is located in Pleasant Plains in Staten Island.

The increase in secondary school registration is due to larger enrollment at several new high schools and at a number of other schools that have added to existing facilities. Rosary Academy in Sparkill, Rockland County, dedicated last spring anticipates a considerably larger student body this fall.

Sacred Heart High School in Yonkers, has just completed a substantial expansion program that is providing accommodations for an increased enrollment. Blessed Sacrament High School, also in Yonkers, has also added new facilities that will allow for a larger registration. The new John F. Kennedy Catholic High School in Goldens Bridge, in Northern Westchester County, is nearing completion and occupancy is expected late in the Fall term.

Plans Meetings

Sabonjian has called off the curfew and said he would hold meetings to resolve racial differences in the city. Sabonjian's action came after police arrested 56 curfew violators Monday night and confiscated automatic pistols, revolvers, ax handles, rubber hoses, knives and hammers. There were no incidents Tuesday night.

In Milwaukee, a hearing initiated by recent racial troubles was set for the Wisconsin Industrial Commission to investigate charges of discriminatory practices by social organizations.

The hearings arose from picketing against the membership of Circuit Judge Robert C. Cannon in the Fraternal Order of Eagles.

The Milwaukee Youth Council of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, which has been leading the demonstrations that eventually led to a callup of the National Guard, decided against a 12th straight night of protests Tuesday night.

Demonstrations Set

Demonstrations are to resume tonight, however.

In Los Angeles, a fight between groups of Negro youths that police say attacked whites disrupted junior Olympic games attended by 10,000 teen-agers Tuesday.

Fourteen young whites and three adults were treated at a hospital for injuries and then released. Officers booked three juveniles on suspicion of assault with a weapon, burglary and robbery.

Cicero, Ill., city officials decided to approve an open-housing demonstration set for Sunday, while renewing a request for National Guard protection.

Gov. Otto Kerner was to be asked today to call Illinois Guard units to patrol the march of 1,000 demonstrators.

A city officer announced Tuesday a parade permit would be issued without the customary 30-day waiting period.

Cash contributions and pledges immediately started pouring into the studios of WKNY radio station, which took charge of the campaign funds. Within four days about $15,000 had been raised to purchase and operate a dialysis machine from Travenol Laboratories in Morton Grove, Ill.

The woman, who is 27, and has been suffering from kidney defects since she was 8, was later moved to the Prospect Heights Hospital to begin initial treatments preparatory to home use of the kidney machine.

Medical authorities, however, informed Jackie's family that the machine would have no effect on her condition if she were not of a properly optimistic disposition.

Learned of Fate

Jackie's psychological outlook went into a decline late in July, when Albany medical officials claimed she had only about six weeks to live.

Thus John DeVoll's new plea for his daughter's life. Her time is running out, he says, and he again calls on Ulster County to help see his daughter through her crisis.

Following is the text of his letter, dated August 28:

"I want to thank you and all of the hundreds of people that helped to give my daughter another chance in life. To all of the children and young people that gave their time and effort to help me to help Jacqueline through the efforts of the Kingston Daily Freeman and your help and understanding all this was made possible.

"My daughter is in the Prospect Heights Hospital at this time going through the basic preparations in readiness to going on the Travenol Dialysis Kidney machine. Her strength and will is about exhausted as she is in a strange and lo..esome place and feels she has been left alone to suffer even though we are there with her as much as possible.

"So again I make a plea to public and friends of this wonderful valley and surrounding areas to write cards, letters, notes or anything at all to build up her spirit and will to give her something to cling to, that all of you wonderful people still care.

Asks for Cards

"A few cards or something will give her that needed boost. She has been through so much pain and suffering these last few weeks, please send her a letter or card to cheer her up.

"Again I say thanks for my wife and family. Please help me to continue to help her so that we can get her back to health and home.

"Send all your letters, notes, cards anything to Mrs. Jacqueline Santosky, Room 421, Prospect Heights Hospital, Washington Avenue and St. John's Place, Brooklyn, New York.

"Thanks can never say my true feelings.

Sincerely,
Mr. John DeVoll, Tillson.."

The school will be the first of its kind in this area, officials said, and it will be designed to be expanded while still in use.

The target date for completion is September, 1968.

Officials of the district discovered that the extra half million dollars would be necessary to pay the costs of construction after the Board of Eduction opened bids and discovered the $1.8 million would not be sufficient for the building project.

Former Cop Is Named To City Review Board

NEW YORK (AP) — Bernard Jackson, a former policeman and anti-poverty official has been appointed to the $17,500 a year post of assistant director of the Civilian Complaint Review Board.

The appointment of Jackson, a 39-year-old Negro, was announced Tuesday by Police Commissioner Howard R. Leary.

Leary also announced the appointments of Henry Weiner and Daniel P. Hollman as hearing officers for the board. Their annual salaries will be $12,500.

Jackson, a policeman from 1952 to 1961, served for four years until 1965 as an Assistant U.S. Attorney in the Southern District of New York.

He then held the post of acting district director for the Office of Economic Opportunity's inspections bureau.

Speculate U Thant

But associates say that against this he has weighed a number of considerations both inside and outside the world organization.

He has made no secret of his pessimism over the situation in Viet Nam and lack of response to his proposals for getting the war to the conference table.

The United States has not accepted the first plank in his proposal — a stop to the bombing of North Viet Nam. Thant is said to feel that the first move should come from the United States, which halted the bombing for a time but did not receive any response from Hanoi on entering unconditional negotiations.

Needs Stipulation

Thant also urges a reduction in military activity by both sides and recognition of the Viet Cong in any negotiations. Both Hanoi and Peking demand a U.S. military withdrawal before any talks — a demand Thant himself recognizes as unrealistic. The Soviet Union has taken a similar stand in refusing to join with Britain in a call to reconvene the Geneva conference. They are cochairmen.

Thant believes also that the absence of Communist China from the U.N. handicaps efforts to achieve peace. He sees little chance of Peking's admission within the next two years, despite reports that the United States is considering a change in its position on the China representation issue.

On a personal level he would like to return to his native Burma and is under family pressure to do so.

Probe Burglary

Kingston state police today were investigating a burglary at the home of Douglas Eighmey at Lake Hill. Eighmey is a son of Kingston Police Commissioner and Mrs. Henry P. Eighmey. State police at Kingston reported the home was entered sometime on Monday and the intruder ransacked dresser drawers and other furniture and made off with a rifle, Mrs. Eighmey's engagement ring and a small sum of money. BCI Innvestigator John Salters investigated and said entrance was gained by smashing a rear bedroom window.

Rocky Campaigns In Adirondacks, To Protect Area

SPECULATOR, N. Y. (AP)— Gov. Rockefeller described Hamilton County in the Adirondack Mountains today as a natural paradise that he intends to "promote and protect."

In remarks prepared for delivery here in his continuing reelection campaign travels, Rockefeller praised his administration $1.7 billion pure-waters program.

To Protect Lakes

"This massive attack on water pollution will protect the beautiful lakes in this part of the country — like Raquette Lake, Indian Lake, Blue Mountain Lake and Lake Pleasant— from ever becoming giant cesspools, which is just what happened to some lakes elsewhere in the country."

The governor continued to hammer away at his education, highway and development programs, noting that the state had put up $1,419,300 for 11 recreational areas in Hamilton County.

Rockefeller also announced plans to improve routes 8, 10, 28 and 30 in the area.

At Warrensburg, in adjacent Warren County, the governor planned to use a helicopter to cut the ribbon opening an 18-mile-long section of the Adirondack Northway.

Scored by Travia

Rockefeller came under strong criticism from Assembly Speaker Anthony J. Travia, who attacked what he called the governor's belated "campaign-time" support for a direct-primary law.

The Republican governor said earlier in the week th at, tfhie earlier in the week that, if the Legislature were to approve a bill providing for primary elections to choose candidates for statewide offices, he would sign it.

Travia, the Legislature's top Democrat, pointed out that the Assembly passed a primary bill in June, but it died in the Republican-controlled Senate.

He said Rockefeller, who had vetoed a direct - primary measure once before, had waited until the measure was "safely killed" in the Senate before uttering any support for it.

Rockefeller mixed humor with politics Tuesday night at a fund-raising dinner of Suffolk County Republicans in New York City.

Joked About Sum

He joked about the financial state of his campaign, on which, the Democrats say, he is spending $20 million.

"Pay no attention to that nonsence about our renting the Taj Mahal for our campaign headquarters. . .Madame Nehru told us it's booked solid through December.

In more serious matters, Rockefeller claimed great success in combating education and pollution probiems on Long Island, saying the Republicans "are the party of action."

Rockefeller said in Harlem Tuesday night that the possibility of having a Negro on the statewide ticket could not be decided "until the (party) convention" next month.

"Until the convention, we won't know who the candidates will be," he said.

Schedule Hearing Plea for Retrial In Murder Case

Hearing on a plea for a new trial for Mrs. Jean Z. Bach, who is under sentence of life at Westfield State Farm Prison for Women, Westchester County, for the alleged slaying of her husband, at their Hyde Park home, has been set for Sept. 2 in Dutchess County Court.

The hearing was adjourned by Judge Joseph Jiudice at the request of Assistant District Attorney William J. O'Hara. Mrs. Bach was convicted of first degree murder in the shooting of her husband on May 5, 1965.

Bernard Kessler, Hyde Park attorney for Mrs. Bach said he is seeking the new trial on the ground he described as newly discovered evidence. Kessler said in his papers that Mrs. Bach was under the influence of a hypnotic drug plus alcohol when her husband was killed.

The attorney further contends that a statement made by his client to the district attorney and sheriff's deputies was not voluntary.

Remains Critical

Condition of Mrs. Aldo Maselli, 304 Chestnut Avenue, Wood-Lynne, N. J., who with her son and husband were injured Monday in a Thruway accident, remains critical at Kingston Hospital. The Rev. Maselli and son, Ralph, 15, were reported as "doing good" at the hospital. Treated and released from the hospital were four younger Maselli children. The accident took place near mile post 88 south of Kingston when a rear tire blew and the car, northbound, went out of control and overturned on the center mall.

Parts of State Divorce Law Effective Tomorrow

NEW YORK (AP) — A portion of New York State's new divorce law becomes effective Thursday.

Beginning Thursday, couples who file separation agreements with their county clerk or receive court decrees of separation may seek a divorce after two years.

The other provisions of the liberalized divorce statute, extending the present one-ground (adultery) law to such things as mental cruelty and homosexuality, take effect Sept. 1, 1967.

The statute requires that voluntary separation agreements be signed and notarized in a form similar to recording a deed.

Divorce law experts said the agreements would apparently have to include such matters as alimony, child support and custody and visitation rights.
